FRIDAY EDITION

SEMI-WEEKLY KERNEL

THE KENTUCKY KERNEL

LAST HOME TILT

U. K. FANS TO SEE FINAL GAME TONIGHT

VOLUME XXI

LEXINGTON, KENTUCKY, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 20, 1931

NEW SERIES NUMBER 40

UNITED STATES

Conversation of America Is More Serious than That of Scotland

SORORITIES INTRIGUE MISS EDITH THOMSON

Educational Systems of The Two Countries Are Compared

"Conversation in America," says Miss Edith Thomson, charming young Scottish Doctor of Philosophy, who is touring the United States," is along a much more serious vein, particularly between men and women than that in Scotland." Miss Thomson has been visiting in ious vein, particularly between men and women than that in Scotland." Miss Thomson has been visiting in Lexington during the past week and has addressed several audiences. During the course of her conversation Miss Thomson, in commenting on American students, made the remark that they were not as scholarly as students in her native land. She attributed this to the educational situation in this country which, she said, differed greatly from that of Scottish universities. In this country students enter the university at a comparatively early age, and the educational program is so organized that the student loses a great amount of the responsibility which devolves upon him during the course of his university career in Scotland, where the class lectures and class attendance are rather negligible factors, and the assigned outside work is almost non-existent. It is absolutely understood, however, that the Scotch student will do most of his work on the outside, on his own initiative, which factr, she thinks, increases his sense of responsibility and desire to pursue his studies more ardently.

The examinations, in Scotland, are much different from those stre to pursue his studies more ardently.

The examinations, in Scotland, are much different from those which are held in this country, she declared. They come only at the end of the year and are not given by the instructor, but by some person, whom she called "an external examiner," apparently a person, not connected with the university, but who is unusually proficient in the subject on which the exam is given. The social life of the American students interested Miss Thomson very much. Particularly was she intrigued with the idea of sororities, though her experiences with them while in this country have been limited. At this juncture of the conversation some of the Tri Delts invited her to spend the evening with them, which she cordially accepted.

ted.
Scotland the social life of the student is much more confinced than it is here. There the students live more to themselves, and in this manner create more of an independent attitude. "Of course, we have dances, but——,"

Miss Thomson was delighted with the landscape of Central Kentucky,

Miss Thomson was defighted with the landscape of Central Kentucky, which she thought greatfully resembled that of northern England, and southern Scotland.

Miss Thomson has been in this country two and one half years. Her residence has been at Yale University, where she has been making a study of the tobacco trade between Scotland and America during the eighteenth century, which she stated vastly influenced Scottish economic life at that time. She is here on the Edward Harkness fellowship, which has been established for Scottish and British students to promote a more harmonious relationship between the United States and the British Empire. During her stay here she has toured the entire United States.

U. K. Debaters Meet Waynesburg College

University of Cincinnati to Meet University Team Monday Night

John M. Kane and Sidney T. Schell university debaters, last night defeated Charles Farrell and Eric Enstrom, Waynesburg College representatives in a debate which was held at room 111 in McVey

The question under discussion was "Resolved that the Nation Should Adopt a Policy of Free Trade." The university debaters defended the affirmative side of the question. The by Kenneth McPherson, alternate and Prof. A. M. Minter, coach.

Prof. W. R. Sutherland, coach of the university debating team has scheduled a debate with the University of Cincinnati which will be held in room 111 of McVey hall at 8 o'clock Monday night. The suberal States Should Enact Compul-

SCOTCH STUDENT Betty Board Is Selected DISCUSSES LIFE IN Sponsor of R.O.T.C. I Sponsor of R.O.T.C. Unit

Fluy Bowling and Mary K. Montgomery member of Kappa Gamma sorority and a sophomore in the Arts and Sciences

Captains

Miss Betty Board, member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, and a sophomore in the college of Arts and Sciences was chosen regimental sponsor at an election which was held by the Military department February 16 and 17.

Election to the various sponsorships is one of the highest honors a coed can receive at the university. The sponsors will make their debut at the annual military ball which will be held at the Men's gymnasium February 27, at which they will take part in the grand march with the cadet officers. They will march with their companies in the parades which will be held during the spring drill season. The first parade of the year probably will be held March 23. All sponsors must practice with their companies previous to this date.

Miss Floy Bowling, pledged to Delta Delta Delta sorority, and a freshman in the Arts and Sciences College was chosen sponsor for the first battalion, and Miss Mary

HOLLAND TO BE THEME OF STUDY

Faculty Members Receive Letters Asking Coopera-tion for Program; Barnouw to Speak

Members of the university faculty have received a letter from Miss Virginia Halley, executive secretary of Pan Politikon, requesting their cooperation for the Pan Politikon program on Holland for the month of March.

The letter asks that instructors devote one hour of each class to the study of the country and says that the cooperation of the faculty is most necessary to its success.

the cooperation of the faculty is most necessary to its success.

The letter:
Deaf Faculty Member:
Pan Politikon presents for your consideration in March, Holland, the land of wooden shoes, dykes, diplomatists, historians, politicians, painters, engineers, traders, discoverers, and almost anything else that the inquiring mind could desire.

Holland is one of the few leading powers in the world today that has succeeded in progressing without at the same time giving up its individuality and picturesqueness. Therefore a study of it should prove especially interesting.

Through the efforts of Professor Vandenbosch we have been able to secure for our convocation speaker on March 10 Dr. A. J. Barnouw, a graduate of Leiden University and for some time a professor there, but graduate of Leiden University and graduate of Leiden University and for some time a professor there, but now a resident of this country and the Queen Wilhelminia professor of Dutch History and Art at Columbia University. Professor Barnouw has traveled extensively and has been in this country sufficiently long to enable him to speak to the American people with an understanding of their attitudes and interests.

standing of their attitudes and interests.

Without your help, however, we can go no further. It will be up to you to determine the breadth to our study next month. We hope to secure the cooperation of the various departments and clubs on the campus as we did last November, so that every aspect of Holland will be presented. May we count on you to support us in this effort? And also, whenever it is possible, will you please devote one hour of each class next month to a discussion of your subject as related to Holland? The student body will appreciate your cooperation.

Thanking you in advance, we are, Sincerely yours.

ncerely yours,
PAN POLITIKON
MARY VIRGINIA HAILEY,
Executive Secretary.

Kappa Gamma sorority and a sophomore in the Arts and Sciences College was selected for the second battalian sponsor.

Miss Martha Chapman, member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority and a senior in the College of Agriculture was selected sponsor of company A, Miss Jean Dawson, pledged to Chi Omega sorority, and a freshman in the Arts and Sciences College company B, Miss Irma Pride, pledged to Kappa Delta sorority and a freshman in the College of Education company C, Miss Mary E, Fisher, member of Chi Omega sorority and a junior in the Arts and Sciences College company E, Miss Virginia Young, member of Kappa Delta sorority and junior in the Arts and Sciences College company F, and Miss Sarah McCampbell, pledged to Delta Delta Delta sorority and a freshman in the Arts and Sciences College Company G. Miss Martha Chapman, memb

Major, Owen Meredith also announces the following appointments in the R. O. T. C. regiment:

Regimental Headquarters Colonel: Ben G. Crosby, Jr.; Lieut. Colonel: Rex L. Allison; Cap-tain, S-1: Joe B. Hughes; Captain, S-2: Carey A. Spicer; Captain, S-3: Wm. L. McGinnis; Captain, S-4: C. W. Schuermeyer. Sponsor: Betty Roard

Headquarters, First Battalion Major: Austin M. Henderson; 1st Lieut., S-1: Vernon M. Chandler; 1st Lieut., S-2: John O. Pasco; 1st Lieut., S-3: Leslie O. Cleveland; 2d Lieut., S-4: Ray L. Trautman; Color Sergeant: W. G. Prince. Sponsor: Floy Bowling. (Continued on Page Six)

Orchestral Group Gives Program at First Convocation

Prof. Carl Lampert Dedicates "Spirit of U. K." to Pres. Frank L. McVey

The university philharmonic or-chestra, composed of 40 pieces and directed by Prof. Carl Lampert, head of the music department, pre-sented a program of classical music at the first convocation of the se-mester, held at 10 o'clock Wednes-day morning in Memorial hall. The convocation was well attended, and the audience displayed a deep in-terest in a type of program which terest in a type of program which was a novel feature at university assemblies.

The second feature of the program was a selection from the unfinished symphony, by Schubert. This was followed by a harp solo, "Song of the Brook," presented by Miss Anne O'Brien, sophomore in the College of Arts and Sciences. The harp music added a great deal to a program which was itself, in effect, removed from the commonplace.

effect, removed from the commonplace.

A march, called "Pomp and Circumstance," was received with interest by the audience, but a unique composition entitled, "The Cat and the Mice," was perhaps received with the greatest enthusiasm. This number, by a peculiar combination of notes, produced an effect which was in keeping with its title.

The concluding number was a composition by Professor Lampert, called "The Spirit of U. of K." The feature was played through by the orchestra, and was followed by a xylophone obligato, by Miss Alice Penn. Previous to the presentation, Professor Lampert announced that he would dedicate the composition to President McVey, if it met with favorable reception on the part of the audience. The applause indicated that the number will be dedicated according to the composer's desire.

THE KENTUCKY KERNEL

UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY

LEXINGTON, KY., MARCH, 1920

By EDNA SMITH

Here is another budding columnist, in person, writing a column with material taken from the old files of the Kernel. Comments will be made here and there and the excepts will generally be placed in parenthesis (whenever I can think of it). At the time that I am taking the first items, the faculty was also allowed to read the Kernel.

Kernel.

The Tau Beta Pi fraternity held its annual dance at the Phoenix hotel Friday evening, at which time five men were honored by being tapped. Tapping is the synonym of present day pledging.

Who remembers Squirrel Food?
It was begun by Mary James and lately continued by Martin Glenn. Here is a joke of which the column was mainly composed at that time. Freshie: Yes, father, I'm a big gun up here at school.
Father: Then, why don't I hear better reports?

Did you ever hear of the "Poor ral States Should Enact Compulsory Unemployment Insurance, to which the Employer Should Contribute (Constitutionality Waived). Hugh Jackson, Sidney Schell and John Kane will support the negative side of the question. Phillip Frankenstein, Frederick Woodbridge and Ben Turpin will represent the affirmative for Cincinnati.

The Kentucky debaters will also meet the team from Cincinnati at 9 a. m., Monday before the students of the Williamstown High school, at Williamstown, Ky.

they banded together to struggle along as best as they could.

It is evidently impossible to give a replica of the pictures in the ads of those issues, but maybe none of you are so young that you don' remember the short tight trousers the pinch-back coats, and the pointed shiny shoes. But I suppose with the feminine population of then, as the big baggy trousers do

Do you know where the dances were given 11 years ago? Read this and find out.

"On account of the recent condition of martial law in the city and the present occupation of the armory by the militia, the dance which was to have been given last Saturday night by Beta Chi chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma, was postponed until a later date, which will be announced."

Professor: "Miss Kelley, are you

Professor: "Miss Kelley, are you related to our famous football player?"
Miss Kelley: "No, but I wish I was."

Soldiers' Selections

The three co-eds, pictured above, who have been selected by the University R. O. T. C. to hold the highest responsibility are Misses Betty Board, Floy Bowling, and Mary King Montgomery. Their first public appearance with the army will probably be at the time of the annual review of the Fifth Area Corps.

V. CHANDLER IS CHOSEN BY SUKY

Ben Leroy, Mildred Little, Mary Elizabeth Price Are Other Officers Elected

Vernon Chandler, Ashland, president of Lambda Chi fraternity and member of the Pan Hellenic council, was elected president of SuKy at 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, in the men's gymnasium at the semi-annual election of officers for the pep organization. Ben Leroy, Paducah, a member of the Triangle fraternity, was chosen vice-president. fraternity, was chosen vice-president; Mildred Little, a member of Zeta Tau Alpha, secretary, and Mary Elizabeth Price, also a member of Zeta Tau Alpha, treasurer.

Chandler, who was vice-president of the organization last semester, was chosen to succeed Bill Young. Young was unable to run for reelection this semester because of his numerous other duties, including the presidency of the senior class. Chandler is enrolled in the College of Law.

The vice-president Ben Leroy is

The vice-president, Ben Leroy, is in the College of Engineering. Leroy is a member of the Pan Hellenic council and secretary of both the Men's student council and the student beard of subjections.

Men's student council and the student board of publications.

Mildred Little, who was elected secretary for the opening semester, is the only one of the recently elected officers who succeeds herself.

SuKy's new treasurer, Mary Elizabeth Price, takes the place of Mary E. Fisher, Chi Omega, who held the post during the past semester. Elections of officers for SuKy take place every semester, shortly after registration week, in order that the offices vacated by graduating members of the organization may be filled again.

SuKy circle is an organization having as its chief purpose the arousing of pep among students of the university in supporting the athletic teams. It was organized on the campus about 10 years ago, and has been in existence since that time. Members of the organization the campus about 10 years ago, and has been in existence since that time. Members of the organization have been responsible for the presence of wildcat mascots at the football games for several years.

One of the chief functions of Su-Ky is that of raising funds with which to send the university band on trips with the athletic teams. The funds are raised by the promotion of dances and the selling of candies and cold drinks at athletic events. The practice of sending the band to important athletic events is in accordance with its main purpose, that of arousing pep to support the home team.

LAMBDA CHIS MOVE

The local chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha, men's social fraternity, moved its residence from 657 South Limestone street to a new house at 250 South Limestone. The new residence, which will be equipped with antique furniture, is expected to accommodate 30 men. The house is a brick structure, belonging to Dr. Foushee, of Lexington. Gordon Finley is president of the local chapter of Lambda Chi.

St. Peters, Greatest Field Generals in History."

An ardent follower of the Wildcats and sympathizer with Mr. Gamage and his trials and tribular should ever become author he would do a lot of original research and has suggested that his book would bear the following title "The Great Faux Pas in the Thanks-giving Game Played in St. Peter's Backyard."

Wildcats, Commodores Will

Clash in Last Home Game Of Season at Gym Tonight RUMORS OF 'FLU' EPIDEMIC AT U. K. ARE UNFOUNDED Fewer Than Ten Students Are Unable to At-tend Classes ATTACK PASSES IN FROM 48 TO 72 HOURS Weather Is Held Responsible For Cases of Ill Health at University Rumors that an epidemic of in-fluenza is laying hold of the student ody of the university have no foundation according to Dr. Oliver H. Pinney, associate director of the university dispensary. "The situation here is not an epidemic, nor has it reached the importance it has in numerous other places.

er places."

"Fewer than ten students are really sick and not able to attend school," said Dr. Pinney. The doctor said that this is not an usual number of cases in a population of 3,000 such as there is in the university. Of the less than ten students who are really sick only two have developed the disease in serious proportions. These two, men, are in the hospital and are being well taken care of.

are in the hospital and are being well taken care of.

The majority of the students who have contracted the disease at all have been only mildly attacked. In from 48 to 72 hours the mild attack has passed, and most of the students are able to be about again after having been slightly ill for only two or three days.

"Of all the cases treated at the dispensary only four, including the two hospital cases, actually have two hospital cases, actually have been put out of business for the time being," according to Dr. Pin-ney. None of the patients have developed pneumonia or other com-plications following the influenza The doctor said that possible basis for rumors of an epidemic might be the prevailency of influ-enza throughout the country at this time. "Here, the disease hasn't as-sumed any proportions that are more alarming than those of February and March in past years."

Last year the influenza peak occurred in March; this year it has come two to three weeks earlier.

The changeable and unseasonable weather that Lexington has been weather that Lexington has been having throughout the winter was blamed by the doctor as the cause of the disease's early outcrop. Because of the changing weather and consequent changes in attire, students have been more liable to exposure this year than last.

The records also show that there are more boys being treated than there are girls. Dispensary attaches said that this is not due to the greater susceptibility of boys the greater susceptibility of boys but to a greater enrollment of boys and to the fact that many of the girls are treated at the dispensary in Patterson hall.

LAW SOCIETY MEETS

The Henry Clay Law Society met last night for its regular semi-monthly meeting in their club rooms in the Law building. Routine rooms in the Law building. Routine matters were discussed, and Charles Reidinger presided. Plans for the coming semester were discussed, and refreshments were served.

when Professor Rannells will discuss the prints in a series of lectures to which the public and the students of the university are invited.

Mrs. Calvin Coolidge is a mem-

Mrs. Calvin Coolidge is a member of Pi Beta Phi.
Gary Cooper chose Alpha Tau Omega as his fraternity.
Zane Grey, writer of national fame, is a Sigma Nu.
Major Gen. Wm. R. Smith.
Commander of West Point Military Academy, is a member of Delta Tau Delta.
Emily Butterfield, well known authority on fraternity and so-authority on fraternity and so-rority crests, is an Alpha Gam-rority crests, is an Alpha Gamma Delta.

Ferdinand Foch, Marshal of France, was a member of Phi Sigma Kappa.
Chas. M. Thompson, well known author, is a Delta Chi.
Elma Hollingshead, clerk of the Commercial Attache at the American Embassy at Rome, is a Zeta Tau Alpha.
Asa G. Briggs, director of the United States Chamber of Commerce, wears the badge of Phi Delta Theta.

DEPARTMENT OF ART TO EXHIBIT

Etchings, Lithographs, and Wood Engravings of American Artists Are to Be

The department of art of the university has announced a showing of etchings, lithographs and wood engravings by contemporary American artists of the first rank, opening at the art center Sunday afternoon and continuing for two weeks. This exhibition, like the large show of American paintings in November, is sponsored by the College Art Association.

"This showing marks the third important exhibition brought to the campus by the department of art this year," stated Prof. Edward Rannells, "and promises to be more completely representative of the high qualities of American art than any previous show of this kind seen in Lexington." Artists of great reputation are numbered among the exhibitors, according to Professor utation are numbered among the exhibitors, according to Professor Rannells, head of the department, and their prints are among the finest being done in this country today.

One of the most highly prized prints in the show is the "16 East Gay Street" by George Bellows—a very personal view of the artist's.

Gay Street by George Bellows—a very personal view of the artist's own home town. Lithographs by Bellows are already rare. His work has done more to popularize the lithographic medium during the last ten years than that of any other man.

ast ten years than that of any outper er man.

There also will be lithographs and wood engravings by Rockwell Kent. whose illustrations for stories of adventure are known all over the world. His latest book, "N. by E. was the choice of the Literary Guild for December.

Edward Hopper's etchings of the American scene, unadorned but authentic and real, are significant documents of our day.

This exhibition will be on display at the Art Center each week day until 5 o'clock; on Sunday afternoons and on Monday and Wednesday evenings at 7:30 o'clock when Professor Rannells will discuss the prints in a series of lectures to which the public and the students of the university are invited.

Brethren! Sistern! BLUE IS CERTAIN OF AN INVITATION TO TOURNAMENT

Kentucky Fourth in Conference Standing; Georgia Is Threat

ELLIS JOHNSON MAY PLAY AGAINST VANDY

Three Basketeers Will Close Careers on University Floor Tonight

> By ED CONBOY Sports Editor, The Kernel

For the last home game of he season, the University of Kentucky basketball team encounters the Commodores of Vanderbilt University tonight in the Euclid avenue gymnasium. The Wildcats defeated Vanderbilt at Nashville 42

Coach Adolph Rupp and his squad of 11 men returned from the Southland Tuesday morning with their first and second defeats of the season at the hands of Georgia and Clemson. The trip ended successfully, however, and the Big Blue toppled the Golden Tornado of Georgia Tech, the team that Rupp feared most. eared most.

feared most.

Immediately after this tussle, the locals will prep for the Southern Conference tournament in Atlanta. Kentucky is in fourth position in the standings and it is a certainty that the committee will' extend an invitation to Rupp's men to enter the tournament.

ment.

The Southern Conference tournament is played by teams which in the opinion of the Southern Conference tournament committee, are worthy of entering the tourney. Such teams as Tennessee, Florida, and Clemson, with only three conference victories, can be hardly overlooked by the committeemen as they are powerful threats against any team.

any team. Tennessee upset the undefeated Crimson Tide five from Alabama The Tide had not lost a game for two years in the Southern Conference. Then, again, there is the un-known Clemson five, headed for no-where in particular, who gave Ken-tucky her second defeat of the season.

The Wildcats will enter the race in Atlanta as a seeded team. Last year the 'Cats opposed the sophomore team from Maryland and won easily. In the semi-finals, the Blue Devils of Duke University defeated Kentucky for the right to play ed nine. Kentucky's victories include: Kentucky's victories include: Georgetown. 67-19: Berea, 41-25: Clemson, 33-21: Tennessee. 31-23: Chattanooga, 55-18: Vanderbilt, 42-37: Tennessee. 36-32: Washington and Lee, 23-18: Georgia Tech, 38-34, 35-16. The two defeats charged against the 'Cats were the games Friday and Saturday with Georgia. 25-16 and Clemson. 32-28, there.

Three members of the 'Cats squad are making their final appearance before a home crowd. Captain Carey Spicer, one of the leading scorers of the conference, has displayed stellar basketball throughout the season. Spicer leads Kentucky tonight in his last game before a local crowd.

season. Spicer leads Kentucky tonight in his last game before a local crowd.

"Little" McGinnis, fighting and aggressive forward, who has thrilled fans with his playing during the last three years will be playing his last game. Little "Mac" never played basketball until he came to the U. of K., and has developed into a great player.

"Bill" Trott, guard, big and husky, is the third man who will end his career tonight before the U. K.
student body. Trott will probably see action in tonight's game.

Ellis Johnson is in shape again and may start at floor guard in place of Worthington. Rupp is anxious to get Ellis into condition before the tournament.

Vanderbilt boasts two outstanding men. Swartz, football luminary, is a brilliant forward, and Henderson, is an outstanding guard of the conference.

The Commodores have good reserve strength and will display plenty of competition for the Wild-cats who are fighting to maintain an undefeated season on their own

Kampus Kat to Reveal Attempt of "Papa" Harry Gamage to "Break into Print"

By WALLACE McMURRAY

Since medicine and dope have put the quietus on smallpox about the most unfortunate plague that now befalls society is for an ama-teur sportswriter to "break out in print". Worse yet, what could be following illogical trends of thought, and arriving at another hypothesis let us assume that Coach Harry Gamage should attempt to write a treatise something like this, "Introduction to American Economic History and Football." Probably "Papa" Gamage would delve deep into the realm of historical secrets and emerge with "Caesar, Moses, and St. Peters, Greatest Field Generals in History."

Y In fact we quote the Kampus Kat have with the following excerpt: "Re-about cently professors of the university that." have emerged with so many books that there threatens to be an evoluprint." Worse yet, what could be more revolutionizing than for a football coach to suddenly become victim of the plague?

Beginning with a false premise, following illogical trends of thought, the printing press. Even to in the press. Even to in the printing press. Even to in the ing a volume on football. A Kat reporter is in possession of the introduction which consists of one-half page and the remainder is the conclusion.

Quoting the Kat reporter we have Mr. Gamage's description of an early game. "Caesar was riled. Cassius had been caught slugging. Then Brutus made a broadside tackle of the mighty conqueror and the later said. "Et tu Brute!"

The game was played in St. Peter's back yard. The signals numbered one. Macbeth grabbed the 'pigskin' and down the field he "ran'." Here Coach Gamage gave several references, mainly from Horatio Alger and Dr. Einstein as he likes to combine science and invention to show the relation the two have to modern football.

The Kampus Kat will be released.

The Kampus Kat will be released for the Kentucky-Vanderbilt game, where copies of it may be procured.

THE KENTUCKY KERNEL

PUBLISHED SEMI-WEEKLY ON TUESDAY AND FRIDAY Member
National College Press Association
Lexington Board of Commerce
MEMBER R. 1. P. A.

Official Newspaper of the Students of the University of Kentucky, Lexington

Subscription $2.00 a year. Entered at Lexington, Ky.,
Postoffice as second class mail matter

HERE SHALL THE KERNEL PRESS ALL STUDENT RIGHTS MAINTAIN

VIRGINIA DOUGHERTY FRANCES HOLLIDAY WILLIAM ARDERY THOMAS L RILEY Managing Editor
Assistant Managing Editor
Dramatic Editor ASSOCIATE EDITORS
Elaine Bonnell

ASSISTANT EDITORS
Virginia Hatcher Virginia Nevins Daniel Geodman OHN MURPHY ASSISTANT NEWS EDITORS
Lawrence Herron William Shafer Sue Dickerson

RE-WRITE MEN Horace Miner George Waite Mary E. Price ELLEN MINIHAN
ASSISTANT SOCIETY EDITORS
Eleanor Smith Polly Reese Emily Hardin

D CONBOY
SPORTS WRITERS
talph Johnson
Edgar Turley
Woodson Knight
Marvin
Wachs
Edgar United the Control of the SPECIAL WRITERS
Fannie Curle Woodhe
Gertrude Evans P. Davis Rankin Edythe Reynolds

REPORTERS Eleanor Dawson
Mary Prince Fowler
Mary Oalloway Oriffith
Mary Virginia Halley
Cameron Coffman
Mary Alice Salyers
O. B. Coffman
Larviet Wolliday

ED CONBOY

COLEMAN R. SMITH W. W. Sacra . Busness Manage

ADVERTISING STAFF James Morgan

Allie Mason

RALPH KERCHEVAL

GEORGE WASHINGTON

General Washington was soon to be President Washington. Hamilton, that inextinguishable "little secretary" of the federalists, had labored with the Senate and the House of Representatives until there was no other recourse. Had not Washington been the bravest figure in the Revolution? Had he not been president of the Constitutional Congress? Was he not the most outstanding figure in the nation? Would he not be more influential than any other living man in collecting and fusing the most diverse elements existing among the colonies? He would. Everyone knew it. They were sure of it. The populace arose; they waved flags; they deafened themselves and each other with the volumnous echoes of Washington, Washington; they sent the Secretary of Congress to Mount Vernon to inform their hero that he was to be president.

Washington received the news calmly. He asked for two days in which to prepare for the journey to New York and the inauguration, and spent them riding about his Mount Vernon estate, looking at every flower, mentally caressing each tree, and bleeding inwardly because he was forced to leave his "evening of peace to plunge into an ocean of difficulties." The journey to New York was glorious for people; crucifying for the president-elect. He alone knew that this was his Calvary; that the man who placed the Bible before him was his Pontius Pilate; that Sherry street was worse than Gethsemane; that the execution of his office was an unbearable cross weighted with the onslaughts of political opposition, cries of "Tyrant! Tyrant!" and ultimately. . .

The contemplated "ocean of difficulties" was struck by a typhoon of dissention. Jefferson became a faction separated from the president and the remainder of the cabinet; Hamilton talked of resignation. Genet insulted Washington and was upheld in his bitter attack by members of the Congress. The newspapers accused Washington of attempted monarchy. One of his fellow statesmen proposed a toast before a large gathering in Virginia saying, "A speedy death to General Washington." ears waiting for the least anachronism. Washington viewed the assaults as personal. He was stung. He fought back as president, but cringed as a man. Indeed, he had expected this.

Had George Washington employed dishonest political methods; had he aspired to the office of president for social betterment and political power; had he campaigned for months, barnstorming the countryside, and making five minute speeches over the radio; had he consumed enough money in this aspiration to warrant a ional investigation; had he slashed at the Anti-federalists with a blade of contempt merely to sprinkle blood of retribution upon rabid Federalists; had he made threats or promises, then appointed commissions for the interpretation of an unpopular sentiment; had he favored a loan plan instead of making an anonymous contribution toward the relief of the "most needy inhabitants" in the stricken capital while he was president, perhaps the bellowing partisans of early colonial days would have been justified in their disparagement of

STUDENTS VERSUS SCHOLARS

Those attending colleges and universities are classified by their fellow sufferers into two definite and all inclusive classes. This classification, unlike those of more safe and learned people, is not at all specific, but is decisively better dollar figure, then it is doing a work more conclusive in spite of this fact. All college people may be classified as either students or within the first two weeks of their college However, they can reclassify successfully as many times as there are semesters in their college careers, providing they can convince others that their reclassification is sincere The majority of college people are students this, no doubt, is why they are usually referred to as such. By "student" we do not mean the specific definition of the word; for never could we say that the majority of college people were in the dictionary's sense of the word, "student, Everyone who is not a scholar is a student everyone who goes to school and manages a very successful course in campustry is a student; everyone who manages to make sufficient standing to keep in school and beyond that doe not worry, is a student. Students are born, no made: their's is the hilarious college, their's is the play time, and theirs is the education that all the books in the world could not give. They are the ones who make the older people shake their heads, and reminisce of the good old days; they give them as much pleasure as they do trouble, for students are the eternal spirit of youth.

Scholars are composed of student materia which has been waylaid and buried in textbooks. Any student can become a scholar, but only exceptional scholars can become students. Scholars seldom know how to play. Their college career, however, is equally as rich as that of the student. They are here primarily to amass facts for future reference; their zest for this is as keen as the student's zest for pleasure. Poor old scholars, they are never appreciated until they have made their mark in the world. Their collegiate life does not live after them; they never make the touchdown which won the game; they never courted the campus queens; they never were naughtily nice. They don't have "IT." They haven't any shady collegiate past which thye can look back on and chuckle over when they are old. Poor old scholars-but then their families are proud of them they can truthfully say that college has trained their minds. Everyone knows that it is the scholars who plunge into life as they did into a book, go through it thoroughly, get everything which is worth having from it, and come out on top. They are to be envied for that ability.

The ideal college career should be a little of both—a student at spring semester and a scholar at winter semester. College should educate a person in the art of how to work and how to play successfully. When we are old we should have the pleasure of saying.. "Now the semester I was a student I made such and such a standing"-but "The semester I was a student I had the time of my life." This alternate semester plan could act as a salve to family, faculty, and conscience, and what a saving it would be of the energy wasted in repressed de

AN EDITOR COMMENTS

At a recent meeting of the West Kentuck Press Association, at which The Kentucky Kernel had two representatives, Prof. V. R. Portmann spoke to the editors present. Following his talk, Mr. Thomas Sharp, editor of the Memphis Press Scimitar, a Scripps-Howard paper addressed the group. Preluding his speech Mr Sharp expressed surprise at the work being done by the journalism department of the University of Kentucky, on which he commented favorably.

The Kernel has asked Mr. Sharp to repeat his opinion of the journalism department to be printed in its editorial columns

Following is the letter: Feb. 16, 1931.

The Kentucky Kernel University of Kentucky Lexington, Ky

The Kentucky Kernel asks me to express an opinion of the work of the journalism department of Kentucky under the auspices of which The Kernel is published.

Lack of acquaintance with work or product forbids that I comment on your classroom courses. My knowledge of your journalism departments is confined to the field work of its extension and research division.

If the main member is as sound as its branch then you are in position to earn for yourself the title of being one of the too few journalism schools the diploma of which is one rung up the ladder of a newspaper career. (You may note that I do not say career in journalism.)

At the session of West Kentucky Press Associatino, Prof. V. R. Portmann of your journalism school spoke. I settled myself as comfortably as possible on a straight-backed chair, under sized for 190 pounds. I was resigned to hear professional platitudes. But no! He had a sheaf of papers in his hand. He distributed the papers. The meeting hall became a class room. Publishers were drawing lines and writing figures. A quarter of an hour later each of us had stuffed his pocked and most of us had stuffed into our minds a business-like idea that could be put to work in the shop.

What has bookkeeping, cost finding and management to do with publishing a paper? This: To continue as an influential medium for the moulding of public opinion or as an adequate medium for the dissemination of news, a paper must be profitable. A newspaper operation that consistently is unprofitable can neither do justice to its community nor justify the investment of its owners.

The owners of a poor newspaper investment must starve, suspend or submit to being the darling of a wealthy angel who has a conceit to be satisfied, a political chestnut to pull out of the fire, or an economic ax to grind, which but puts off the day of downfall, for the subscriber will lose respect for and confidence in a newspaper that is a "kept" paper. And what can it profit a paper to have the largest circulation and lose its reader confidence?

If the Kentucky journalism school holds the light for the struggling papers to come out of that destroying quagmire known as "in the red' and guides those on solid financial ground to a valuable than the putting up of erudite sign boards to warn against the split infinitive or to scholars. They classify as one or the other point out an idealistic path. To be healthy the press must be independent and it cannot be independent on the editorial page unless it is independent in the cashier's cage. After hearing your Mr. Portmann, I inquired by chief of police.

of Kentucky editors if it can be true that there a journalism school that understands prob lems of the publisher as well as the perplexities of syntax; that is as capable of helping the circulation manager as it is of polishing the English of an undergraduate. The men and women of Kentucky newspapers tell me this is true. In Lexington there is a school that thinks of the man in the field as well as the youth in the classroom and serves both well.

TOM SHARP.

THE NEW DANCE RULES

The art of dancing is an old one. It has been a favorite pastime among the youth of practically every nation of the world since time immemorial. That dancing is an art can not be denied. In fact, an embryonic form, called the ballad dance, was the protoplasm so to speak, out of which the great art of literature has been evolved down through the centuries.

To some it may seem remarkable that the gentle art of literature should have developed from an art in which physical motion was the predominant feature. But the ballad dance, the literary protoplasm, as it were, was only a means to an end. It constituted the media through which the emotoins of the peoples could be expressed. And so it is with dancing today. Dancing is a physical expression, or an outlet, for the feelings within.

The art of dancing, as we know it, is one which is entirely within keeping of the customs of civilized society. Dances are social affairs, chaperoned by mature people. There is nothing that is vulgar, nothing that is uncultured, or incompatible with ideals of morality. All this is recognized by society. All this has been taken into consideration by social leaders, in planning for the education and the development of the human race.

Dances of the University of Kentucky have long occupied an important place in the category of extra-curricular activities. They have long been looked upon as a worth while part of student diversion. Much has been done to add to the pleasure which dances afford. But despite the good will on the part of the majority of those in charge, disagreeable features have arisen from time to time. Students owe much to those who have realized the disagreeable features and who have made attempts to remedy them before their condition became

The new dance rules adopted by the univer sity senate are just another example of timeliness in conduction of a real student problem Fraternity dances at the university had b as a result of increased attendance and the inadequacy of floor space, affairs which afforded little real enjoyment. There was no opportunity for good dancing, since freedom of motion, a primary requisite, was lacking.

With the adaption of the new dance rules, the situation will be different. According to the new ruling, each fraternity will have the privilege of giving three dances each year, but the attendance at each dance will be limited. This is wholly desirable. By preventing overcrowding at dances, the new rules will bring about once more an atmosphere of harmony and will add greatly to the actual pleasure derived from perhaps the most acceptable of college pleasure giving activities.

LITERARY SECTION

A BABY'S COST

I do not know

I only know-A cell, wherein she is confined, Heartaches, sorrow, Pain-the morrow Frees her. A pink skinned little something A cry of joy-Money? It cannot buy A mother's sigh Of joy.

How much? I do not know

JAMES R. MINER.

JEST AMONG US

If a man has seven kids there's no use looking any further for the wonders of the world.

Every dog has his day, but it's about time w ran out of dogs.

Just one look at Eve and we'd know darn well it never took much to please her.

Remarkable how the principle of the thing always draws so much interest

Poets are all right in their place. could only agree on a good place.

If you're a habitually good guesser there's great opening in the weather bureau

Says Hiram Higglesworth: Those 'No Trespassing' signs that're tacked on the trees do a heap more good on flappers.

If it ever comes to a food shortage we'll al ways be able to feed them on traffic jam. . . . What's this about religion and sex having something in common? Must be that they de velop more heat than light. Tourists say that European monks have taken up tennis. Just the beginning of some mor monkey business. Suggested items of additional information of registration cards: What brand of tooth paste do you use? Do you eat crackers in bed? Do you like pretzels with beer? Has your bes friend ever told you? How much sugar do you use in your coffee? Also have cards appro

U. K. Art Head

In discussing true art appreciation, Prof. Edward W. Rannels, head of the department of art at the University of Kentucky, says: "Not he looks at."

Anyone who draws, ever so little, Anyone who draws, ever so little, is able to appreciate art much more than the person who merely approaches the subject with unseeing eyes. "Appreciation begins with seeing," according to Professor Rannells. "Art in American needs a nells. "Art in American needs a public better prepared to enjoy it than the man of the nine-fold ma-jority whose habits of seeing are as unthinking as customary habits of speech. The significance of our art will grow in proportion to the number of those who know how to see and what to search for. They are the ones who will insist upon sandards that are high?" dards that are high.'

Professor Rannells has had many years of experience as a teacher of art and is attempting to increase the university student's appreciation the university student's appreciation of art by introducing special art exhibits each week in the art center. These exhibits are open to everyone at practically every hour in the day.

EDUCATORS GO TO DETROIT

Dean W. S. Taylor and five pro-fessors from the College of Educa-tion of the university will attend the convention of National Educational Association which will be held in Detroit from Friday, Febru-ary 20, to Friday, February 27. Others who will attend are: Dr. C. C. Ross, Dr. Jesse Adams, Mrs. McKay Duncan, Professor L. M. Chamberlin, and Professor M. E.

Dance Planned By Alumni Club To Be Friday

Plans for an Alumni dance to be held following the Vanderbilt-Kentucky basketball game tonight was the main topic of discussion of the Lexington Alumni club's monthly meeting Monday night in the Palm Room of the Phoenix hotel. This dance is to be held for the purpose of raising money for the student loan fund. Admission will be one dollar.

Miss Margaret McLaughlin, president of the club, presided, and Pres.

Miss Margaret McLaughlin, president of the club, presided, and Pres. Frank L. McVey addressed the group on the subject of "Alumni". Among the features of the program were two dancing acts, Miss Gay Loughridge and Mr. Allen Goodloe danced, and Miss Martha Bruce Loughridge gave a solo tap dance. Miss Mary King Montgomery accompanied at the piano. In presenting the youthful entertainers Miss McLaughlin referred to them as, "one of the most artistic and as, "one of the most artistic and brilliant groups of entertainers in the student body, and who have been enjoyed especially by Guignol

audienes."

The March meeting of the Alumni club will be held in honor of the members of the varsity basketball team, and at that time the letter men will elect the captain for the following year. Letters and numerals will be awarded to the players at the meeting.

"I understand that some of these movie kisses last through fifty feet

"That's nothing. I have had some that lasted over a half mile of concrete."

FLOWERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS

> MICHLER Florist

417 E. Maxwell. Ph. Ash 1419

LUNCH at BENTON'S

We serve hot chicken, croquettes, soups, chilli, delicious salads and dainty sandwiches. Unusually fine home-made pies and cakes

FOUNTAIN DRINKS

Benton's Sweet Shoppe

FAMOUS FOR CHOCOLATE FUDGE CAKES

WHY

GO FARTHER WHEN YOU CAN GET IT

Alexander's

Much Quicker

WHEN LAZY—PHONE 8251 and it will be right over

South Lime

Opposite Memorial Hall

STEPPING INTO A MODERN WORLD

Out of 25 telephone companies

ONE SYSTEM

Greater ability to serve the public is the reason for the Bell System - made up of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and its 24 associated telephone companies.

The Bell System is operated by these 24 associated companies, each attuned to the area it serves. Each enjoys the services of the staff of the American Company, which is continually developing better methods. Each benefits from the work of the Bell Telephone Laboratories and Western Electric - scientific research and manufacturing branches of Bound together by common policies and ideals of service the Bell System companies work as one. In helping to administer this $4,000,000,000 property, men find real business adventure. The opportunity is there!

BELL SYSTEM

NATION-WIDP SYSTEM OF INTER CONNECTING TELEPHONES

From His Diary
Oh ye gods, why should my poor restless heart
Stand to oppose your might and power, At last surrendered to Cupid's

feather'd dart,
And now lays bleeding every hour
for her that's pitiless of my grief
and woes,
And will not on me pity take.

He sleeps amongst my most invet-erate foes, And with gladness never wish to wake. In deluding sleeping let my eyelids

That in an enraptured dream 1 may
In a soft, lulling sleep and gentle repose sess those joys denied by day.

By your bright sparkling eyes I w was undone; Rays you have; more transparent than the sun, Amidst its glory in the rising day None can you equal in your bright

tant in your calm and unspot-ted mind;

Equal to all, but will to nor prove kind,

you'll find,
Ah! woe's me, that I should love
and conceal.
Long have I wish'd, but never dared reveal,

Even though severely love's pains
I feel;
Xerxes the great, was not free from

Cupid's dart,
And all the greatest heroes felt
the smart.

CALENDAR

Friday, February 20

Lexington Alumni club of the university entertaining with a dance in the evening in the Men's gymnasium from 9 until 12 o'clock.

Basketball game at 7:30 o'clock in the Men's gymnasium. University versus Vanderbilt. Saturday, February 21

Kentuckian dance from 9 until 12 o'clock in the Men's gymnasium. Sunday, February 22 Washington's Birthday.

Vesper services in Memorial half at 4 o'clock. Faculty club tea in the club room from 5 until 7 o'clock.

D. Purcell Bas

STRAWS!

STRAWS!

Have You Chosen Yours?

$995

Peanut, Toyos in Bandeaux, Tricornes, Bicornes, in large and small head sizes. All col-Grosgrain riband leather

This shows the actual texture of the silk net

Fashionables Wear Gotham's Silk Net Stocking With the COLDSTRIPE

> -sheer -durable

-smart for daytime, evening or sports

-particularly smart in the darker shades

Gold Stripe that stops garter runs.

$1.95 the pair

Walk a block and Save $5

on new spring

Footwear

It's worth the effort as scores of girls will tell you, for they al-ways buy their smartest shoes at Purcell's.
We purchased a large assortment of the newest styles from a maker of high grade
KID SKIN SHOES at

$5

They are soft, pliable and much more comfortable than calfskin shoes, which is all you usually find at this price. You'll forget you have feet in these comfortable new shoes.

Parties Planned For Inspector
Mrs. Grace Pettijohn, Indianapolis, will arrive in Lexington tonight to be the guest of Phi Beta, women's musical and dramatic fraternity for the week-end. While she is here, Mrs. Pettijohn will be at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house.
Plans for her stay here include a tour of the Bluegrass on Sunday afternoon, and several informal luncheons and dinner parties.
Mrs. Lolo Robinson will entertain with a luncheon in her honor Sunday at her home on Woodland avenue.

Tea at Maxwell Place
President and Mrs. Frank L. McVey entertained with a delightful tea Wednesday afternon from 4 until 6 o'clock at Maxwell Place for the students and faculty of the university.
Mesdames Charles Knapp, Robert
Lunde and Paul K. Walp poured tea and the members of the Pan Politikon club assisted in entertain' ing. The guests of honor were the majors in political science and the graduate students in history.
About 100 guests called during the afternoon.

WEDDINGS

Good-Kavanaugh

Good-Kavanaugh
The marriage of Mr. Roy Kavanaugh, former University of Kentucky student, and Miss Margaret Good, Louisville, was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents on Tuesday, February 17. The ceremony was attended by the members of the immediate family of the bride and Miss Sarah Honaker, Louisville, who was bridesmaid, and Mr. Sam Shipley, Sturgis, fraternity brother of the groom, who acted as best man.

Mr. Sam Shipley, Sturgis, fraternity brother of the groom, who acted as best man.

Mr. Kavanaugh was graduated from the Arts and Sciences Colleges of the university in the class of 29 as a major in political science. He was captain of track in his senior year and is a member of Delta Tau Delta, national social fraternity; Omicron Delta Kappa, national campus leaders fraternity; Scabbard and Blade, national honorary military fraternity; and was a member of Mystic 13, former class honorary organization. Since his graduation Mr. Kavanaugh has been employed by the Dodge Motor Car Corporation in Louisville.

The bride and groom left shortly after the ceremony for a motor trip through central Kentucky, and they plan to visit friends in Lexington within a few days.

Professors of Ag. College Address Threshermen

Five members of the faculty of the College of Agriculture were speakers at the three-day annual meeting of the Kentucky Threshermens Association, which was held in Lexington, at the Drake hotel, February 17-19 inclusive. The university speakers were Professors W. D. Nichols, E. J. Kinney, H. B. Price, J. B. Kelley and J. F. Freeman.

Mr. Kelley, who is profess agricultural engineering in discussing the "Mechanical Methods of Controlling the Corn Borer" for the benefit of the Threshermen, stated that "the European corn borer is a parasitic pest affecting the corn plant which has caused much damage in some corn prothe corn plant which has caused much damage in some corn producing regions of the United States. Thus far the corn borer has not intered the state of Kentucky to any great exent, but the agricultural workers fear that, due to the large importation of corn from Ohio and Indiana during the parasite may also have been brought in with the northern product. There exists a possibility of this importation of the corn borer, which although not a certainty, must be guarded against between now and May 1. In attempting to destroy the borer the use of mechanical methods is the most successful."

Some of these methods, as em-

most successful."

Some of these methods, as emphasized by Professor Kelley, are the "better methods of plowing," the "use of special corn-cutting sleds for cutting close to the ground in order not to leave stalks in the field which will harbor the corn borer" the "shelling of all corn from the cob and burning the cobs, or, keeping the corn in a screen crib through which the corn borer moth cannot enter," and the "necessity of cleaning up all fields, and barnyards, before the first of May. . ."

terhity have been in a dition of the construction of their "Southern" home, which they still regard with a great deal of away. The fraternity was founded by a carpetbagger following the Civil War for purposes which have not been discovered. We are told that the members of the lodge sing Negro spirituals at meals in order to lend the proper Dixie atmosphere, but whether or not this has any connection with the original plan for the organization of the fraternity was founded by a carpetbagger following the Civil War for purposes which have not been in a dition of their "Southern" home, which they still regard with a great deal of their "Southern" home, which they still regard with a great deal of their "Southern" home, which they still regard with a great deal of their "Southern" home, which they still regard with a great deal of their "Southern" home, which they still regard with a great deal of their "Southern" home, which they still regard with a great deal of their "Southern" home, which they still regard with a great deal of their "Southern" home, which they still regard with a great deal of their "Southern" home, which they still regard with a great deal of their "Southern" home, which they still regard with a great deal of their "Southern" home, which they still regard with a great deal of their "Southern" home, which they still regard with a great deal of their "Southern" have a supplied as a supplied as

Sneers

Scandal By WILLIAM ARDERY

Oh! My Dear, Did You Hear About Caesar and Cleopatria?

Some one is always telling us about scandal that happened long ago and which failed to appear in this column. We are newspaper men and we have ways and means of knowing nothing.

Queen of Hearts and the May The May Queen of last year has again presented her royal heart to one of our eds. Nice thing about hearts—they last. Longer, perhaps, than fraternity pins.

Ordinary Occurrences

Ordinary Occurrences

It occurs to us that the really smart people never mention it... that if one does not like The Kernel one mentions it... that several of our more intellectual eds and ettes shuddered at the head "Regulations... Is Passed" which appeared in the last issue... that we cannot ascertain whether it was an oversight or merely ignorance... that the delightful thing about this newspaper is that no one ever makes a mistake himself or, if under some grare circumstance one should be caught red-handed with a gross error, one can merely mutter and everyone will understand... that beautiful freshmen girls are, efter all, only beautiful freshmen girls are, it all, only beautiful freshmen girls... that we like the blue light in one of the engineering buildings... that humor is similiar to beauty in a great many wavs... that we hate to write this column with somecne looking over our shoulder... that means you... that he has gone... that a truly bored perron cannot possibly nelp showing it... that be terfiley are not a numerous as they once were... that it is fun to look slouchy... that we need a haircut... that the Alpha Gams have mere "atmosphere" than any other sorority... that we sometimes wonder if sallors really have curvature of the spine from sleeping in hammocks... that Hamiltonians are at least different... that the Wildcats are really a hot and cold team ... that the very wisest among us do not know why sororities exist.

Women Should Know Line of the week to Horace Miner
—"Tom Riley has had his picture in the papers so often he reminds one of Lydia E. Pinkham.

What the A. T. Os. Think One of the charming A. T. Os. has told us that he is bored simply to death from reading of the activities of the Kappas and the Chi Omegas in this column. Perhaps it bores us to write of them.

Kappas and the Engineers

The juniors met Wednesday af-ternoon and defeated Al Kikel for the business managership of the 1932 Kentuckian. Following the 1932 Kentuckian. Following their usual custom the S. A. E.'s and the engineers were intent upon demonstrating their political power. The Kappas, those of the upturned noses and abhorrence of engineers, were present and with a great deal of enthusiasm loyally supported the man of the blackened brow.

A Kappa Colonel

Members of Kappa Kappa Gamma assure us that one of their number will shortly cease courting the army, or more particularly, one member of the army. Incidentally, a Colonel. has been. elected.

Kappa Alpha

Members of Kappa Alpha fra-ternity have been in a dazed con-dition since the construction of their "Southern" home, which they still regard with a great deal of

Palais Royale Ball Room

BIG DANCE

Featuring

Jimmie Green's 11-piece Orchestra

WHO HAS BEEN POPULAR AT

GEORGIA TECH PROM

NORTHWESTERN PROM

GOLDEN PUNKIN (Chicago)

ALSO YOU HAVE HEARD HIS BROADCAST OVER WENR WGR

Don't forget WEDNESDAY Night

FEBRUARY 25

JOHN (SHIPWRECK) KELLY, Mgr.

ALABAMA PROM

TENNESEE PROM

Snickers

seldom considered at all.
Assets:
Effective organization, beer keg which is held as result of a football victory over the Fiddledethetas, son of Senator A. O. Stanley.
Liabilities:
Indifference to the charm of the Zeta Tau Alphas, mountains of rubbish in the back yard, unfortunate attitude toward activities.

We May Not Be Queen of the May After the election of the business manager of the 1932 Kentuckian we are sure that we cannot be chosen for the exalfed position which we seek without the support of the Triangle-Engineer-S. A. E. machine. Since we do not desire to belong to this political group we hereby withdraw from the race. ("Belong" meaning to be owned by.)

Harry B. Potter Is Guest of Alpha Zeta

More than 50 active and alumni members of Alpha Zeta, honorary Agriculture fraternity, attended a luncheon at the Lafayette hotel Saturday in honor of Harry B. Potter, of Marshall, Ill., general secretary of the organization. Dudley Smith, Chancellor of the Scoville Chapter Alpha Zeta, at the university presided as toastmaster. The sity presided as toastmaster. The see presided as toastmaster. The speakers were, Thomas P. Cooper, Dean of the College of Agriculture, G. M. Harris, secretary of the local chapter, Mr. Potter, and Prof. Wm. G. Finn.

Representatives from seven chap-ters of Alpha Zeta were present at the luncheon. Chapters represented were Pennsylvania State College Purdue. University of Minnesota, Iowa State College, Michigan State, Ohio State, and 38 members from the university chapter.

The dean of women at the University of Minnesota has proposed a time clock for coeds going out on dates. Space would be left on the card to place the name of the fellow, the occasion, and other desired information.

In Kentucky they could make more use of a time clock to keep the constant couples from monopolizing the courting corners in Pat and Boyd halls. This might help the more timid girls out.

She—I can't light this match. My foot's too small.

He—Light on you—er—. Here—better let me light it.

Many years ago considered one of the truly smart houses it is now seldom considered at all. Inhabited State, Says Funkhouser

During the past summer detailed explorations of the rock shelters of eastern Kentucky, adjacent to the north fork of the Kentucky river in Lee, Powell and Wolfe counties have been carried on and the con-clusion is reached that these shelt-ers were extensively used as habita-tions by the prehistoric peoples of the region.

Under each of the rock shelters. as a rule, enormous deposits of ashes are found, which may be the accumulation of fires built by the prehistoric peoples for warm-

The possibility of the existence of a feeble race formerly inhabiting Kentucky, who burned the bodies of all their males on death and buried in the flesh all the females and children, has been set forth by Dr. W. D. Funkhouser, of the zoology department, and Prof. W. S. Webb, of the physics department, in a publication just issued by the university. Archeological investigations in many parts of Kentucky have been carried on by these two scientists, and their latest work has been in cooperation with the Smithsonian Institute.

During the past summer detailed explorations of the rock shelters of eastern Kentucky, adjacent to the were not removed, the various layers have served as a preserving medium for vast numbers of artifacts, usually broken, together with onlines, the skeletons themselves. It is noteworthy that skeletons of festivation of the skeletons of festivation of the skeletons of festivation of this article.

The more deeply buried, or earlier, artifacts found have been crude and primitive, while the relies located nearer the surface of the rock shelters have revealed as somewhat higher state of civilization.

what higher state of civilization.

Doctor Funkhouser and Professor
Webb plan to continue their archeological and anthropological studies in Kentucky during the coming field season.

"On arriving at Frisco my mother had lots of trouble with officials there about the Chinese vase she endeavored to bring in."
"Custom?"

BOOK REVIEWS

"Henry of Navarre" by Henry Dwight Sedwick, published by the Bobbs-Merrill Company of Indian-apolis, is a picture of the life and surroundings of that Henry of France who was one of the world's of a very different nature but equal-purple. greatest lovers.

The book will hold not only the interest but the sympathy of the interest but the sympathy of the reader from the first to the last word. The author has breathed into it the very essence of intangibility which was the dominant characteristic of the great Henry and we find in him most of the qualities desirable for leadership in his or any other age. To quote "America," he was "as modern, tolerant and lacking in conviction as any American non-Catholic moderant and Catholic moderate."

Quoting again, but this time from Maurice Faichere, "It would seem that he was just another of those great men who have had their The book will hold not only the

ly interesting, Abraham Flexner's "Universities" (Oxford University

fifty--eggshell

Jackets

Fur Fabric

10.00

Some have the Goupy front that overlaps in a slenderizing effect. Single or double breasted with notch collar plain or full sleeves with fitted wrist. Sizes 12 to 20.

Quaint Peasant Blouse or Dainty Frilly Affairs

Of silk crepe, handkerchief lawn in tailored styles—eyelet embroidered shantung with frills—voile in the peasant style with embroidered yoke.

Illustrated—the INA CLAIRE blouse — 5.00

and for those fifty jackets-

Fifty Skirts 6.00

Wool skirts that just simply hug the hips in the new way with a row of buttons or flatly pressed tucks. Pleated or flared in solid shades.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon Alpha Tau Omega Sigma Chi Phi Kappa Tau Delta Chi

Phi Delta Theta Phi Delta Theta Delta Tau Delta ... Phi Sigma Kappa Pi Kappa Alpha ... Kappa Sigma Alpha Gamma Rho

Lambda Chi Alpha Alpha Sigma Phi ... Kappa Alpha

Sigma Beta Xi

Best Copy

FAMOUS "FAREWELL ADDRESS" PRESERVED ON COPPER PLATE

A large copper plate on which prior to the year 1819 three em-inent engravers engrossed George Washington's famous "Farewell Address" and artistic decoration and vignettes designed by Thomas Jackson, which are now at the Capitol, in Washington, and James Madison, John Marshall, James Monroe, Charles Carroll, Gouver-neur Morris, Lafayette. He was em-ployed to paint the full-length porployed to paint the full-length por-trait of Decatur by the authorities of the City of New York. Then, in 1837, he went to England to paint the portrait of Queen Victoria. Sully lived until 1872, to the ripe age of 89, and the last photograph taken of him, in his studio, which is in Mr. Woodhouse's possession, shows him painting his last portrait of Washington. He had apparently become interested in painting Washington when he studied under Gilbert Stuart, in 1807, and his interest continued until his death, 1872. Mr. Woodhouse believes that it was Sully who conceived the idea of reproducing Washington's great masterpiece, the "Farewell Address." The four engravers, Fairman. and vignettes designed by Thomas Sully, the distinguished artist who painted "Washington's Crossing of the Delaware" has been discovered and acquired by Henry Woodhouse, President of the Aerial League of America, who discovered the plate while searching for the original of the first air passport, issued by George Washington to J. P. Blanchard on January 9, 1793, when the latter made the first balloon flight ever made on the Western Hemisphere.

The historic plate is 38 inches high by 28 inches wide, and rep-resents the work of the four artists whose names are engraved on the plate, who must have spent several years in the execution.

years in the execution.

Washington's Farewell Address is engraved under an artistic decorative heading. The address, comprising over 6,000 words, is engraved in clear script in two columns of 114 inches each, the lines having from 25 to 30 words each.

Washington's characteristic signature is engraved at the end of the address, with the date when it was address, with the date when it was made public, September 19,1796.

made public, September 19,1796.

The artistic allegorical vignette in the center of the bottom of the plate, drawn by Thomas Sully, is 9x5 inches in size. It shows the figures of Union and Peace, with the American Flag and the emblems and symbols of peace, union, agriculture, art, science, literature, engineering and other factors emphasized by Washington in the Farewell Address.

The names of four engravers are

Th names of four engravers are signed to this monumental piece of engraving: Gideon Fairman, B. H. Rand, Charles Toppen, and Charles H. Parker.

That it was engraved prior to 1819 is established by the fact that Parker died in 1819. Fairman died in 1827, Rand in 1862 and Toppen

Their signatures indicate that the Their signatures indicate that the four artists-engravers took turns in working on the historic plate. The names of Parker and Toppen, signed just below the decorative heading and laurel wreath, each followed by and laurel wreath, each followed by "Sculpt," indicate that they engraved those sections of the plate.

Gideon Fairman must have engraved the allegorical vignette designed to it as "G. Fairman Sculpt," on the right side of the vignette.
The name of the painter is signed on the left of the vignette. "The sully Del." That may imply that he delineated the entire plate.
At the bottom, on the right, are signed the names of G. Fairman.
B. H. Rand and Charles Toppen.
In the lower corners of the plate are engraved the following: "Paper by T. Gilpin Co., Brandywine," and "I Coffin, Printer."
Thomas Gilpin was the pioneer

Thomas Gilpin was the pioneer Quaker paper manufacturer and publisher who constructed the first machine for making paper continuously. He published a collection of documents connected with the banishment of his father and other Quakers to Virginia during the Researches indicate that the plate was executed in Philadelphia and that Sully designed it between 1810 and 1818, while he was planning his historic painting of "Washington's Crossing of the Delaware," which he painted in 1818-1819.

That point has been deducted by Mr Woodhouse from an unpublish-

Which he point has been deducted by Mr. Woodhouse from an unpublished biography of Thomas Sully in his possession, written by the distinguished historian, Benson J. Lossing, who recorded that Sully lived in New York in 1806, in Boston in 1807, when he studied under Gilbert Stuart (the painter of the famous George Washington portraits, and in Philadelphia in 1808. Then adds Lossing:

"He soon made arrangements for visiting London, when he was introduced to Benjamin West, the President of the Royal Academy of Fine Arts. Mr. West, as Sully expressed it, behaved like a father to him. Other distinguished artists gave him their advice.

duced to Benjamin West, the President of the Royal Academy of Fine Arts. Mr. West, as Sully expressed it, 'behaved like a father' to him Other distinguished artists gave him their advice.

"He returned home in 1810 and speedily became the fashionable portrait painter, in Philadelphia, from which he received a fine income."

Sully remained in the United

lly remained in the United es until 1837, during which he painted the leading mages of that period from among them the portraits of Sully and Andrew

Made from

James B. Haggin Memorial Essay Contest Awards Are Presented to Five Agricultural Students

Keith Venable, Murray, a student in the College of Agriculture, was announced winner of this year's James B. Haggin memorial essay contest at a special assembly of the College of Agriculture, Saturday morning, at the Judging pavilion. Malcolm Lyons, Frankfort, won the second prize; W. C. Scott, Guston, third; Scott McClain. Taylorsville, fourth, and Ivan Jett, Richmond, fifth. A total of $150 in gold coins was divided among the five students. The contest was founded in honor of the late James B. Haggin, who owned the famous Elmendorf farm of 15,000 acres, and is held annually at the university. Any student in the College of Agriculture may participate by writing an essay on the agricultural topic assigned. The subject this year was "Changes that Should be Brought about by Kentucky Farmers as a Result of the precent Drouth and Agriculture Depression." masterpiece, the "Farewell Address,"
The four engravers, Fairman,
Rand, Toppen, and Parker, and Gilpin, who supplied the paper, appear to have been Philadelphians, therefore Mr. Woodhouse feels safe in deducting that the plate was engraved in Philadelphia. The work may have required be-tween two and five years, each en-graver taking his turn in doing the share for which he was especially fitted.

The judges were Profs. E. S. Good, H. B. Price, and E. J. Kinney. Pro-fessor Good announced the winners of the contest and introduced them share for which he fitted.

Specialists have advised that engraving is still a specialized art today, and it would require from three to four different specialists to engrave such a plate and that it might require several years from the time of planning to the completion.

Unless writings are discovered to Unless writings are discovered to the information, it may to the information, it may to the information it may to the donor of an engrave with the donor of an engraving in the contest and introduced will be assembly.

Following the announcement of the winners, Dean Thomas P. Coopter, of the College of Agriculture, introduced William H. Danforth, St. Louis philanthropist, and the establisher of the American Youth Foundation. Mr. Danforth gave an address on the subject, "I Dare You."

Mr. Danforth is the donor of an agriculture college scholarship and several 4-H club scholarships each year. H. P. Kirkman, a junior in the College of Agriculture, won the scholarship offered last year.

of starting to engrave the huge plate. But the fact that Parker died in 1819, and his name is sign-ed to the plate, is an indication that he finished his share before 1819.

Colonel Gideon Fairman, who engraved Sully's vignette, was a noted Philadelphian, who shared with George Murray the distinction of having elevated the art of engrav-

The scarcity of prints from this plate is attributed to the fire that took place in 1832, destroying the works of Thomas Gilpin, where the plate was kept. It was stored away with other things saved from the fire and was forgotten until recent.

fire, and was forgotten until recent-ly, when it was brought to Mr. Woodhouse's attention, who bought it to add to his Washingtoniana collection, which includes upward of 20,000 original records.

On account of the great length of Washington's Farewell Address, which involved a monumental task to engrave it, no other engrossing of it is known to exist.

A school for yell leaders has been established here where prospective tion in voice, drama, and how to

A fair young girlish Russian was loved by a strong-armed Prussian. From the sofa one night came a scream of delight, the Russian, the Prussian, was Crussian.

Always Favor The

Dealer Who Sells

handle crowds.

February.

scholarship offered last year.

Four-H club members attending the American Youth Foundation camp on Lake Michigan last year were Sarah Margaret Land, of Lexington; Clyde Reeves, Georgetown; Curtis Farley, Haran; Guy Arnold, Frankfort; Carnelius Hager, Nicholasville, and Ed Robinson, Georgetown. The delegation was in charge of Carl W. Jones of the College of Agriculture. Agriculture.

ing. B. H. Rand was a famous "writing master" of Philadelphia. He was the father of Benjamin Howard Rand. M. D., who was born in Philadelphia in 1827, graduated at Jefferson Medical College in 1848, was Professor of Chemistry at Philadelphia at the Franklin Institute, Professor of Chemistry at Jefferson Medical Institute in 1864, and author of "Medical Chemistry for Students" (1855); "Elements of Medical' Chemistry," 1866, etc. His sister, Marion H. Rand (1824-1849) was a poet. The plate is in perfect condition. U. K. Campus Views was a poet.

Publicity Bureau Announces Views Offered Free to Clubs, Theatres

The plate is in perfect condition. An inquiry sent by Mr. Woodhouse to collectors brought the answer that original prints from that plate are scarce, that the price would probably be from $2,000 to $5,000 each, being ranked in their rarity with the lithographed copies of Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation, the last copy of which brought $3,100 at the Anderson Gallery last February. The Publicity Bureau announced yesterday that it is prepared to offer a number of slides illustrating buildings and campus scenes of the university, to all theaters, clubs schools, and other institutions desiring their use. The only conditions are prompt return of material and sufficient advance notification to prevent a conflict in bookings.

The building scenes include: Administration building, White hall, university museum. Mining Engineering building and laboratory, Basketball building and Men's gymnasium, Men's dormitories, Boyd hall, Patterson hall, Armory and Women's gymnasium, Mechanical nail, Patterson nail, Armory and Women's gymnasium, Mechanical hall, Henry W. Wendt shop, Interior Wendt shop, Johnston sun labora-tories, rear view College of Engin-eering, Art Center, garden at the eering. Art Center, garden at the rear of the art center, Natural Science hall, the Law building, view in the arboretum, experiment station, Stock judging pavilion, replica of first railroad in Kentucky, Neville hall, C. and P. building, Drive near Kastle hall, the Esplanade, McVey hall, Serving tables, University Commons, Memorial and Memorial amphitheatre.

The next meeting of Le Cercle Francais will be held at 3 o'clock

VENABLE CHOSEN CONTEST WINNER

Keith Venable, Murray, a student

Available on Slides

The slides consist of a set of 32 in black and white, containing pictures of the university buildings, both interiors and exteriors, as well as several campus landscapes. A mimeograph explanation of each slide accompanies the set.

University Commons, Memorand Memorial amphitheatre

FRENCH CLUB TO MEET

Monday afternoon in the recreation room of Patterson hall. Miss Mae Bryant, president. will preside, and Miss Dorothy Teegarden will have charge of the programs. The guests will play French card games.

Bands Combine for Vanderbilt Basketball Game Tonight

RoamiN' An ensemble composed of 150 RialtO

210

Thomas L. Riley

The theater tree of Lexington bore a bumper crop this week but it seems that the pickings will be few next week. Nothing of outstanding worth is on top.

Probably the most potent threat for money next week is Joan Crawford's new opus bearing the sedate title. "Dance, Fools, Dance." Although it is nigh impossible for them to actually dance, the muggs will roll their money in the b. o. The shop girls will gape and the drug store yaps will enthuse. "Dance, Fools, Dance" is a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture which opens at the Strand Sunday. The plot concerns a girl newspaper reporter who, in order to get the inside on concerns a girl newspaper reporter who, in order to get the inside on an underworld gang, gets a job in a night club as an entertainer. Miss Crawford's position on the screen is an enviable one as the majority of hqr productions have earned money for their producers. As you probably saw "Our Dancing Daughters", "Our Blushing Brides", etc., etc., you know the quality of her histrionic ability without us telling you.

-TLR-

A certain screen star left the set in anger the other day because the moustache of her leading man smeared her makeup. When you can get away with that, you're

"Cimarron" is continuing to thrill (and, in some instances, bore) Kentucky theater audiences. This picture should be seen but lay aside an afternoon or evening for it is entirely too long. "Once a Sinner", at the Ben Ali, presents Dorothy Mackaill and John Halliday in splendid performances. The plot is none too original. "The Easiest Way", starring Constance Bennett is holding out for the week at the Strand and the picture has met with wide approval.

—TLR—
Paramount has done much for with wide approval.

—TLR—

Paramount has done much for Nancy Carroll. Starting her as a thoroughly untalented imitator of Clara Bow, they have gradually built her into a substantial name through the medium of good stories, directors, and supporting casts. She appeared in "Laughter", one of last year's best, and almost did brilliant acting. Her latest vehicle, "Stolen Heaven", opens at the Kentucky tomorrow and advance reports speak well of the production. Phillips Holmes, the lad who did so well in "The Devil's Holiday", is cast in the male lead. "Stolen Heaven" tells of a pair of crooks who stake everything on one big splurge. Of course, with the Hays code of screen ethics in effect, they must lose in the long run. George Abbott directed "Stolen Heaven."

—TLR—

Much comment is heard these days on the sound animated cartoon comedies. This form of entertainment is the only original idea that America has contributed to the motion picture. For your information.

ment is the only original idea that America has contributed to the motion picture. For your information, about 7,000 separate drawings are required to make one reel (approximately 750 feet) of film. Corps of copyists who are usually art students work on each subject.

—TLR—

Touted as the most sensational discovery in years, Elissa Landi makes her American film debut opposite Charles Farrell in the Fox picture, "Body and Soul." Miss Landi was a popular stage and screen star before coming to this country to play the lead in the Broadway production, "A Farewell to Arms." Myrna Loy and Humphrey Bogart are also featured in "Body and Soul" which comes to the Ben Ali Sunday. Alfred Sentell directed. The popular tune bearing the same title has no connection with this picture.

Ohio State University is propuonding upon the advantages of companionate engagements. They are quite popular there. This idea must have been started for the use of freshmen girls who cannot resist the temptation to show their great power over men. It should be a great aid in helping freshmen get around and go places and seeing things. Mother always told us that an engaged girl had many privileges that an unengaged one could not have.

An ensemble composed of 150 pieces of the girls, concert, and basketball bands will make up the band which will play at the Kentucky-Vanderbilt basketball game. Friday night at the Men's gymnasium. This will mark the first public appearance of the season of the university Co-ed band. They will be combined with both the basketball and the concert band. Those who will be included in the ensemble are:

Trombones, Mary Cooper Carter. Mary King Montgomery, Velma Dervers, Sistan Amerson. Henry Baker, Erle Bishop, Beryl Bogardus, Carl J. Boone, John F. Day. Elden Durand, William Holtzclaw. Robert McDowell.

Baritones: Helen Carnell, Hugh Adcock, Charles Gaines, Wels Waird and Boyle Wheeler.

Cornets: Imogene Young, Ruth McFarland, Ann O'Brien, Ethel Whitlow, Flossie Minter, Sara Bethel, Harold Ashley, Edgar E. Boyhoo, C. S. Blackburn, J. W. Buskie, Wesley Carter, Joe Gartin, Norman Hainsey, Earle Hays, Hume Herrington. Elmer Hubbard, Robert Jennett, Robert Lowrey, Joe McDaniel, Clarence Moore, John Mum-

Women's Rifle Team Wins Second Match

Co-eds Defeat University of Depauw Shooters by 485 to 483 Score

The co-ed rifle team of the unithe co-ed rifle team of the anti-versity won its second match of the season by defeating the Univer-sity of DePauw girls 485 to 483. The high individual scorer of the girl's team was Georgia Bird with 98 out of a possible 100.

Individual scores follow:

 Georgia Bird
 98

 Mae Bryant
 97

 Dorothy Gould
 97

 Gertrude Hehman
 97

Members of the Pitkin club held a luncheon-meeting at noon Wednesday in the basement of the Maxwell street Presbyterian church. Joe Ruttencutter, president, presided and opened the meting with several business announcements. He introduced Dr. H. M. Morgan, pastor of the Presbyterian church, who spoke to the group on "Campus Life in Reference to the Bible."

Approximately 80 men and women students and a few faculty members were present. Members of the Pitkin club held

Ike: Me old man was born in a log-cabin fulla chinks.

Mike: That's nothing; me old man was born in a tenement full of Wops.

A. 9190

Saxophone: Catherine Drury, Mary Louise McDowell, Mabel Fish-er. Hinden Blades, W. R. Engle, Gayle Hammond, Ray Hahn, Bruce Hoblitzel, Fisher Markley and Hu-bert Warren.

ford, C. H. Struble, W. F. Thomas,
Joe Vaughn, J. L. Watson and W.
L. Wolpe.
Piccolo: Prewitt Jones and Gayle
Tudor.
Bassoon: Earl Mickel.

Warren Tempel, Paul Thurman and Daniel Watts.
Alto: Hortense Carter, Mary Galloway Griffith, Mary Pruitt, David
Bates, Stewart Bohen, Carson
Moore, Robert Palmore and Eugene

Wilson.
Oboe: Clara Innes and G. H.
Morsce.

Flute: Lenora How

Gayle Hammond, Ray Hahn, Bruce Hoblitzel, Fisher Markley and Hubert Warren.

Drums: Elizabeth Eaton, Mollie Mack Offutt, Helen Stark, Raiph B. Boyd, Fred V. Crowley, Leroy Hedges, Wade Jefferson, Horace Lynn, Ralph Parr, F. C. Peters, J. C. Polsgrove, Benn Stark, and H. J. Templin.

Bass: Loretta Bitterman, Jane Bland, Blair Hughes, Elmer Neuman, Jimmie Randall, V. H. Reneau,

A HEALTH TIP

Consolidated Drug Stores

PHOENIX STORE CURRY'S CORNER JOHN'S CORNER

100 E. Main St.

101 W. Main St.

THE TAVERN

WE DELIVER

A. 2386

THERE'S A DIXIE DEALER NEAR YOU

Pure Fresh Blue Grass Cream

Available

SEEN FROM THE PRESS BOX

By ED CONBOY

Captain Carey Spicer is one of the greatest forwards in the South and one of the leading conference scoring aces. Spicer led the South in scor ing during the football season and until the Georgia upset. Carey captained the only undefeated Southern Conference five.

Spicer scored 27 points against Vanderbilt, 14 against Tennes and against the Golden Tornado at Atlanta scored seven points. Tonight will mark the last home game for Spicer and he ends his athletic career at Atlanta next week in the annual Southern Conference basketball tournament.

Friday, February 20, 1931

Jake Bronston is prominently mentioned by all sports writers as the outstanding guard of the South. Bronston is a sure bet to make the all-Southern team if Kentucky plays at least two games.

Discovery of a second case of meningitis in Clemson College resulted in extension of the quarantine and cancellation of all athletic contests. Kentucky played Clemson in its initial game after the ban was lifted and this game may be the last for Clemson. It is doubtful if the Tigers can play in the

Here is the latest change by the football rules committee for penalty for being off-sides when point after touchdown is attempted. For the offensive eleven, it is five yards penalty with another chance at goal. For the defensive team, they are penalized half-way to the goal or one yard with the offensive team receiving another chance at goal. The former rule was awarding of the extra point for off sides by the defensive team and loss of the extra point by the offensive team committing such a vio-

SuKy has named the 'Cats "cat" and let us hope he has nine lives, one for every football victory recorded this fall.

Did you know that all-American John Suther of Alabama and a teammate, McWright, will coach the Hopkinsville High school. "Spinner Campbell has already signed to coach the Kentucky backfield.

Maryland won its return game with Virginia 33-31. Virginia defeated the Old Liners a few weeks ago by the same score for her only loss this

"Lindy" Hood of Alabama, giant all-Southern center, will be out of the game for the remainder of the season. Hood was missing from the Crimson Tide early in the year. He played with the undefeated Alabama football squad. He was the heart and soul of the basketball team's offense. He entered a hospital last week for treatment for a broken blood

Tulane University will not have a baseball team this year. Lack of student interest is the reason. Tulane stands 20th of-the 23 conference basketball teams. In football the Big Green has not lost a Southern Conference game since 1928.

Eastern State freshmen are the undefeated state frosh champions of

A regrettable feature at all basketball games at the university is the inefficiency of doormen. Students must march in single file with one ticket taker at the door. This situation should be cleared up before the

The wonderful spirit of the student body at the Georgia Tech game state forward. He played freshman basketball and has been on the varsity squad for three years.
Trott has made every trip with the team during this time.

Louis "Little Mac" McGinnis was born in Lexington in 1910. He attended Lexington High school but never played basketball. He played on the freshman squad after entering the university and has played three years of varsity basketball.
"Little Mac" is the younger brother of the now famous "Big and Lil Mac" combination.
Charles Worthington gave 1910 and Peoria, Illinois as the date and place of his birth. He played basketball at a high school in St. Louis, Missouri for two years and made the all-state team both years as center. During his senior year his team played in the Missouri Valley tournament and went to the finals.
Charley entered the university last year and played guard opposite was dampened somewhat by a handful of persons who went to the station to wish Rupp and his boys goodluck, when they left for the march through Georgia. Where was the best band in Dixie?

Brilliant Biographies of Bulky Blue Basketeers

A short biography of 11 of the basketeers is compiled and printed in this story. The year of birth, town, and the high school record is chool team and two more played on the famous Ashland Tomcats who

Carey "Cherry" Spicer was born in Paris in 1909. He started playing basketball when he was 10 years old in the Y. M. C. A. Spicer played on the Morton Junior High team that entered the state tournament and won their way to the finals against Lexington Senior High only to lose by nine points. He played three years of high school basketball and was captain during his senior year. Carey won a sportsmanship trophy at Georgetown. He entered the university and played entered the university and played freshman basketball. He has played played basketball, but only went out played basketball, but only went out for basketball three years. He played on the same high school team with Carey Spicer and enter-ed college with him. As a fresh-man basketeer he was elected cap-tain and the team won all but one game. He did not play varsity ball one year which makes him eligible for another year. Ellis "Skipper" Johnson was born

Ellis "Skipper" Johnson was born in Morehead in 1910. He has played basketball only since he was a sophomore in Ashland High school. He made the varsity the first year he, went out for the team and was elected captain for the following year. The year that he was captain, the team won 44 consecutive

By RALPH E. JOHNSON

The Southern Conference tournament looms in the distance and the Wildcats are prepped and ready to go. Every phase of their present activities has been presented to the readrs of the sport page, but what reader knows much of their past life.

Thart biography of 11 of the chart biography of 11 of the life. Charley entered the university last year and played guard opposite Johnson. His sophomore year was begun as a substitute, but he now is a regular guard.

Forest "Aggie" Sale was born in Lawrenceburg in 1911. He started to play basketball when he was in the seventh grade, and played three years in high school. During his senior year he was elected captain and was picked as the best player in the seventh region. He also received a gold award for sportsmanship during his playing in the 13 district games. He averaged 18 points a game during his junior year and made a three year average of 15 points. He played freshman basketball with Johnson and Worthington. His sophomore year his senior year he broke his ankle, but he came back in time to go to Chicago with his team. That year they were third, but he was again selected as an all-American guard. This gave him the distinction of being the only man to be twice chosen on the first all-American five. His college career has only started. He played freshman ball last year and the team won all their games. This the team won all their games. This year he has played regular guard, but he sustained an injured ankle in the Tennessee game.

Darrell "Tough Stuff" Darby was born in Ashland in 1910. He started off as a basketeer as a freshman in high school, and his career parain high school, and his career para-lels that of Ellis Johnson. He play-ed in both of the national tourna-ments and was captain during his senior year. He entered college last year and played basketball with Johnson. He started his sophomore year on the bench due to a bad shoulder, but as it improved he saw more service.

"George "Fever" Yates first saw shoulder, but as it improved he saw more service.

George "Fever" Yates first saw the light of day in Elizabethtown 1910. His first experience with the hoopsters was during the year he was in the eighth grade. He entered high school, played four years and was elected captain during his sophomore and senior years. He was chosen twice for the all-District team, twice on the all-Regional team, and was selected captain of the all-Regional team. He entered college in the fall of 1928 and played freshman basketball. He has played varsity ball for two years. William "Koz" Trott, better known as "Bill" which is only natural, was born in Evansville, Indiana, in 1908. He attended Central High school in that city. He played four years in high school on a team that was runner-up in the Indiana state tournament. Bill in the Indiana state tournament.

PAT DEVEREAUX U. K. Trainer TO BEGIN PREP

WEDNESDAY

year.

At the present time, no one except Leon McMurray from last year's squad is available. McMurray is a good moundsman and it is possible that McBrayer may pitch the year.

is possible that McBrayer may pitch this year.

Ketucky will be hard hit by the loss of Rhodes who was graduated last year. Rhodes is now with the Detroit Americans. Pat stressed the fact that his pitching talent was weak and asked that all interested in this particular position report for

of the will consider the work of the consideration of the consideration for one of the greatest seasons in the history of baseball at the uni-versity. Miami opens the season here on April 1, and Illinois plays here April 6.

KITTENS TO MEET

HENRY CLAY HIGH ON MONDAY NIGHT

The University of Kentucky freshmen basketball team closes the season next Monday night with Henry Clay High school of Lexing-ton in the Euclid avenue gymnas-ium. This promises to be one of the best games on the Kitten's schedule.

Coach Gilb has lost two veteran players, Kercheval and Fidler and his lineup will be weakened by their absence. Kentucky has lost only two gams, both to Eastern Normal while the success of the Lexington boys has been rather indifferent.

The probable lineup:
Kentucky Pos. Henry Clay

fattingly G Arnold louse G Biggerstaff or Davis Referee—Bernard Shively, Illinois.

was elected captain in his senior year. He stayed out of school for a year after his graduation and played on a Y. M. C. A. team that won the state tournament; that same year he was elected as all-state forward. He played freshman basketball and has been on the yearsty squad for three years.

man basketball with Johnson and Worthington. His sophomore year has been spent as alternate center.

Ercel "Erk" Little was born in Tolu in 1908. He played all four years of his high school career and his team was not beaten in scheduled games for the last three years. He received a sportsmanship cup during his senior year. Tolu will be remembered as the team that dropped a game to Corinth last year dropped a game to Corinth last year in the tournament by one point. "Erk" played freshman basketball and has been on the varsity for two years.

JOHN DICKER TO RETURN

John B. Dicker, superintedent of shops at the University of Kentucky has recently sailed from Liverpool, England, on the U. S. S. "Aquitania" for the United States. Mr. Dicker has been on leave of absence for five months and will be back about the first of March to assume duties here. He has held this position as superintendent of the Engineering shops since 1917. Before this time Joseph Dicker held this position for 26 years.

.F..... Nugent

....... Duniap

"Skipper" Mann Has Multitude of Warm Friends

By BILL LUTHER
One of the most prominent men in connection with University of Kentucky athletics is Frank "Skipper" Mann, who, since his coming to the university in the fall of 1924 has had charge of the training department. During that seven year period, "Skipper" has become well known throughout the South and has a multitude of friends both at the university and in other schools with whom his protegees have come in contact.

"Skipper" is a native of Illinois and made his home in a city at the south end of Lake Michigan known throughout the world as Chicago.

and made his home in a city at the south end of Lake Michigan known. throughout the world as Chicago. It was in this city that Frank, as a small boy, decided that the greatest need of the college world was bigger and better trainers—and to that end he has striven, and his success from the start has been inevitable. After leaving the Charles Komnskie high school in Chicago in 1903, "Skipper" went to Chicago University where he became an understudy to "Pat" O'Brieri, who trained many athletes who attained fame under the guidance of the grand old man, Amos Alonzo Stagg. Two of the greatest football players of all time were playing at Chicago University at the time "Skipper" was learning his work. The late Walter Eckersall, all-time all-American quarterback, and Hugo Bezdeck, now director of athletics at Penn. State College.

Having completed a thorough course in the art of handling physi-pack, and Hugo Bezdeck, now director of athletics at Penn. State College.

Having completed a thorough course in the art of handling physical and mental injuries of athletes. Mann accepted a position at the University of Indiana in 1906 and remained at that school until 1910. In the summer of 1906 "Skipper" took a fling at traning the national pastimers in the big show. It must have been Frank's lucky year; or maybe it was the luck of the Chicago White Sox that he was connected with the team. Anyway Chicago won the pennant in the American league and copped her only World Series.

His next move was to Iowa Unitougher than training Hawkeyes, who later coached Dartmouth College, was head coach. "Skipper" left Iowa in 1914.

There was little time during the war period for training athletic teams, so "Skipper." exempt from service, held a position for the Western Front, and with the return of college men to resume their work on the gridiron, the calls of the training room and the smell of liniment were too great for him. He heeded Stagg's call and returned to the University of Chicago where he stayed until 1920.

Purdue was the next Big Ten school that sought the valuable ser-

Purdue was the next Big Ten school that sought the valuable services of Frank Mann. He went to the home of the Boilermakers in 1920 and helped Coaches Buch Scanlon and Jimmy Phelan produce the championship team of 1922. The lure of the South and Kentucky's Blue Grass and sunshine called "Skipper" to the home of John Barleycorn in the autumn of 1924. Perhaps Frank thought that training Wildcats was a little tougher than training Blues. MaMaroons or Crimsons. "Skipper" really enjoys tough jobs.

To what factor Frank Mann owes really enjoys tough jobs.

To what factor Frank Mann owes his success, is not definitely known. Many would say it is his personality: none will disagree. But some might add, "there's something else." The latter are probably right. For confirmation, ask any one who has known him, whether ft be athlete. coach, sportscribe, or honest citzen. "Skipper," besides being an all-American trainer, was no mean athlete himself. Between stages of his profession, he has added to his knowledge of various sports by playing semi-professional baseball. football and basketball. Frank still adheres to the latter sport and plays occasionally. At the present plays occasionally. At the present his favorite is handball.

his favorite is handball.

All men have done something for which they are famous. Some of their deeds may have been small; some not so small. We may be quoting other authority than "Skipper's." but from our own observation, we are able to sustain the statement that "Skipper" "loves a good square meal."

She was only an engineer's daughter but he was her first wreck.

SEVEN

'CATS FIGHT 'CATS IN SPRING DRILLS

The varsity rifle team, which has The varsity rifle team, which has been winning all season, finished last week's telegraphic matches with six victories out of seven. The R. O. T. C. team won both of its matches. In a high five, four position match with the University of Vermont the varsity won hands down to the tune of 1862 to 1781. The Varsity team which includes the highest ten men from 15 who fire, had an aggregate score of 3623. The R. O. T. C. team fired and their scores were:

their scores were:
University of Kentucky Varsity 3623
Davidson College 3489
Georgetown University 3596
Mississippi A. & M. 3498 Mississippi A. & M. 3498
New York Stock Exchange 3602
North Carolina State College
University of Illinois 3449
University of Kentucky ROTC 3594

Illinois Indiana University The ten men composing the var-sity team this week were: Eades, Henderson, Coffman, Christie, Flor-ence, Evans, Payton, Stone, Chinn, and Musselman.

The men who fired high for the R. O. T. C. team were: Eades, Henderson, Coffman, Florence, Evans, Stone, Parrish, Chinn, Wachs and Musselman.

UNIVERSITY WILL HAVE ENTRIES IN 1932 GLOVE MEET

Successful intramural boxing and wrestling tournaments were closed last week under the auspices of the intramural department. Boxing, especially, has created wide interest at the university.

interest at the university.

For this reason, together with the promising talent that is displayed at meets, M. E. Potter, head of the physical education department, has made plans whereby Kentucky will be represented in the Southern Conference boxing tournament next

It is not likely that any thing will develop now, but as Kentucky has some good fighters, the depart-ment thought it advisable to enter the tournament next year. The tournament this year will be held next month at Charlottesville, Va., under the auspices of the University of Virginia.

Florida holds the boxing chamiltonia of the Charlotte of th

pionship of the Southern Conference at the present time. Only three conference teams are not represented in the boxing tournament and Kntucky is the most outstand-ing university in athletics that does not compete in boxing.

PURPLES DEFEAT RUSSELL CAVE

Crushing the Russel Cave bas-Crushing the Russel Cave bas-keteers under an avalanche of shots from every corner of the floor, the University High netmen rang up their tenth consecutive win to the tune of 29 to 21 Tuesday night in the Russel Cave gym. At the end of the half the Purples were on the long end of a 20 to 5 score. The first half was a fast and ex-citing track meet, although the Kempermen were never in danger. Coach Kemper ran in his second

Coach Kemper ran in his second string at the beginning of the second period, and the game drag-ged considerably until the new boys found themselves, but speeded up

Gabby, Adams, and Fister looked best for the Cavemen, with Gabby topping the scoring column with 11 points.

The Mothers' club of Delta Tau Delta fraternity met yesterday ternoon at the chapter house.

PARRISH PLAYS BOTH!

Douglas Parrish, freshman in the College of Arts and Sciences, is the only frosh athlete to go out for both basketball and spring football practice, Parrish reported at night after he had worked all afternoon with the Parrish is a regular on the freshman basketball team which has lost but two games this season, both to Eastern Normal. He gained his greatest reputation as a football player and is slated for a position on the slated for a position on the varsity this fall.

ALL MAKES

TYPEWRITERS

SALE OR RENT

Special Rental Rates to Students Dealer: L. C. Smith and Corona Typewriters

STANDARD TYPEWRITER COMPANY
Courthouse WEST SHORT ST. Phone Ash. 1792

RIFLE TEAM WINS Blues and Whites Struggle SIX OUT OF On Stell Field for Griding On Stoll Field for Gridiron Supremacy; "Papa" Smiles

Plays Last Tilt

Louis McGinnis, known to his many friends as "Little Mac" will play his last home game tonight. "Little Mac" has been a star for the Big Blue for three years and he is one of those players who comes and goes, unhonored, unknown and unwept. He has been given but little recognition of his efforts but "Mac" has done a lot to make Kentucky one of the feared teams of the conference.

THINLIES! THINLIES!

Coach Bernie Shively has requested that all candidates interested in the middle distance or long distance runs report to him at once. A number of promising candidates were declared mising candidates were declared ineligible for competition this semester and there is an urgent need for material in these events. All undergraduates are eligible for the track team. An exten-sive schedule has been planned for the spring season. for the spring season.

Westinghouse student to the floorwalker of a Pittsburgh department store:

"Where can I buy some soap?"
Floorwalker—"Right down this aisle at the novelty counter."

A ferocious Wildcat has met another Wildcat as ferocious. An irresistible force has met an immovable object. The result was the same: glories are even. A 6-6 tie terminated an hour's fierce struggle for supremacy in the gathering dusk out on Stoll field Tuesday afternoon as two Kentucky football teams sought'to prove to the other that it was worthy to represent the university against Southern Conference opponents next season. ference opponents next season.

As a result of the afternoon work-

As a result of the afternoon workout, two coaches, one of whom is known as "Gloomy" Gamage, were not so downcast at losing the entire forward wall of the 1930 aggregation. However, the feeling of inquietitude has not been totally driven away. Some of the boys still have plenty to learn and much practice in the new formation must be gone through before the first game. game.

Coach Gamage is doing a little

Coach Gamage is doing a little more experimenting with new uniforms this spring. Dick Richards, the mighty blocker from way out west in Denver (where men are men) was chosen to be the painted doll. The Denver Demon made his appearance on the practice field Wednesday afternoon in a pair of gold colored silk pants a golden. wednesday atternoon in a pair or gold colored silk pants, a golden hued helmet and a light weight dark blue jersey. This is what the well dressed Wildcat should wear next fall. A double order will have to be placed for our big center, Frank Seale.

Getting back to the serious or football side of the story, things are progressing about the same as in any spring football practice. As usual there are a number of new boys worthy of consideration who must learn football from the beginning. Some are slow to learn and some are slow to learn and some pick up the rudiments rapidly. The game Tuesday revealed that the new plays have been learned noly in part. Seldom was a play executed with anything like perfection.

fection.

The Blue team was the first to score. George Bickel, a hard-running back from Male High school of Louisville, scored on a off-tackle play early in the scrimmage. The team was composed of Seale, center, Carruthers and Parrish, guards; Davidson and Baughman, tackles; Montgomery and Andrews, ends; with Richards, Phipps, Bickel and Bach in the backfield.

and Bach in the backfield.

Urbaniak slipped off tackle to score the White touchdown a few minutes before the practice game was over. He was aided in the backfield by Foster, Frye, and Hand.

The line appeared equally as strong as the Blue, with D'Annunzio, and Kreuter, ends; Baughman and Pribble, tackles; Aldridge and Kipping, guards, and Janes, center.

Wednesday and Thursday were spent in ironing out the kinks that kept the offenses from reaching semi-perfection Tuesday afternoon. Changes have been made in both the teams that were used in the (Continued on Page Six)

MILLER BROS.

SLATE, TIN. AND COMPOSITION ROOFING Repairs of all kinds — All work guaranteed ASHLAND 2758 "Wise Furnaces" 105 WEST HIGH ST.

Eleven Hundred and Eighty Three Pieces of Table and Kitchen Ware were used to serve Breakfast Monday, the 16th

Rose Street Confectionery

Hear Bill ? Sing at 9 p. m.

THE RHYTHM KINGS Specialty Act

AT 10 P. M. FRIDAY, 20th

ROSE STREET CONFECTIONERY

TRAINS

CINCINNATI

*No. 32 Blue Grass Special......2:55 AM 5:55 AM No. 6 Cinti-Chattanooga Express 8:30 AM 10:45 AM 11:45 AM 8:15 AM .5:25 AM 7:35 AM No. 44 Cincinnati Special...........5:50 AM 8:00 AM 9:00 AM No. 16 Cincinnati Local............1:35 PM 4:25 PM 5:45 PM No. 42 Queen & Crescent, Ltd.6:30 PM 8:40 PM 9:40 PM No. 4 Royal Palm No. 102 Royal Palm De Luxe..... .6:50 PM 9:00 PM 10:00 PM .7:00 PM 9:20 PM

Daily except Sunday. SOUTHERN RAILWAY SYSTEM
W. B. CLINKENBEARD, City Passenger and Ticket

112 East Main St.

ET

Neither 'Cageon' Nor 'Cajan' But 'Cajun' Kitty's New Appelation

The Kernel stands corrected. Its fair editor has received a letter, which says very plainly that it is in error. But the writer himself corrects a mistake with a mistake. Wise boy from Louisiana telling us how to spell the name of our new kittle, "Cajun," when we knew all along how it was done.

Our smart sports editor admits his error in spelling the word "Cageon" but maintains that a native of Louisiana and the dictionary assures him that the spelling is assures him that the spelling is "Cajun," instead of "Cajan," as the college editor of Louisiana insists. But read, dear readers:

Miss Virginia Dougherty Editor-in-Chief

But read, dear readers:

Miss Virginia Dougherty
Editor-in-Chief
Kentucky Kernel
My Dear Miss Dougherty:
Just glancing through your Tuesday, February 3, issue as editors of college papers do and what should I see, to my surprise, that you had unintentionally insulted the fair name of the great grand, and glorious people of the swamplands of Louisiana. Why, dear me, why call the poor "wildcattie" "Cageon" when "Cajan" is the name.

No offense.
The word "Cajan" is an abbreviation for Acadian, the natives from Acadia in Nova Scotia who were chased out of their homes about 100 years ago by some English king and they decided that Louisiana was the place to live. They probably read the Chamber of Commerce a dvertisem ent in "Time" for Bayou Pom Pom, Plaquemine, and Morgan city sunshine and crayfish. That's neither here nor there. The French name "Cajan" must not be mistaken for the word "Creole." The Creole is a mixture of French, Indian, Negro, and Spanish—something in man that corresponded to the African gnu of the animals. Anyway, some of our good friends might take offense to the statements in the story by Ed Conboy that reads:

"Since he is a low type of Louisiana feline, the name "Cageon" might appropriately fit him."

Nobody would object to you calling your wildcat "Cajan" or "Cageon," but they might not take that crack about the low type so well. Now you see the Acadian people are pure French and just as good as you or I, and it must never be hinted that they are a low type. Tsk, tsk, now if you were talking Irishmen being a "low type" the Acadians or nobody else would mind. Not even the Irishmen themselves. By the way, how is your uncle? Ope, that was a slip—I thought I was writing to my best girl who has a rich uncle about to kick off.

If you don't mind, we wou'd like to suggest keeping the wildcat in

If you don't mind, we would like to suggest keeping the wildcat in

Wildcats, Vandy to Have Tilt Tonight

(Continued from Page One)
Coach Rupp would like to use a number of reserves in an effort to determine the 10 men who are to make the tournament squad. In spite of the overwhelming victory the 'Cats scored at Nashville they are not taking Vanderbilt lightly, as the Commodores are aching for revenge for a previous defeat and a victory would give them meritorious mention in the pre-tournament dope.

Schwartz Spicer .McGinnis Foster. Coffee

(again that girl)
Irrespectively yours,
(thats better)
H. W. G. SPENCER,
Chief Editor, Louisiana Revellie.
P. S. You might be interested to know that I have one uncle named Ryan and another named Perry, and they are pure Italian too.

Betty Board Selected R. O. T. C. Sponsor

(Continued from Page One)

Company A
Captain: L. G. Forquer, Jr.; 2d
Lieut: Maurice H. Harris; 2d Lieut:
Leland V. Maschmeyer; 2d Lieut:
Conrad A. Rose; 2d Lieut: William
A. Callis; 1st Sergt: Joseph D. Martin. Sponsor: Martha Chapman.

Platoon Sergeants
1st Platoon, Thomas B. Christie;
2d Platoon: Kaspar D. Little; 3d
Platoon: Glen F. Weinman.

Captain: William D. Trott; Captain: William D. Frott; Lieut: Ralph G. Woodall; 2d Lieut: Carrutth M. McGraw; 2d Lieut: Chence L. Waldron; 1st Sergt: Kenneth M. Kerr. Sponsor: Jean Daw-

Platoon Sergeants

Son.

Platoon Sergeants

1st Platoon: Harry L. Holtzclaw;
2d Platoon: Morris, Farber; 3d
Platoon: James B. Davis.

Company C
Captain: Benjamin D. Harrison;
1st Lieut: Napoleon E. Hill; 1st
Lieut: Arthur W. Eyer; 2d Lieut:
Chas. L. Arnold; 2d Lieut: Nathan Schwartzman; 1st Sergt: Jesse H.
Farris. Sponsor: Irma Pride.

Platoon Sergeants
1st Platoon: Edgar D. Hodges;
2d Platoon: H. J. Terry; 3d Platoon: R. D. Cooke.

Headquarters, Second Battalion
Major: Ernest W. Kirk; 1st Lieut:
Thomas T. Milby; 1st Lieut., S-1:
W. R. Humber; 2d Lieut, S-2: Wm.
L. Wolfe; 2d Lieut, S-3: R. W.
Sternberg; 2d Lieut, S-4: Pryor A.
Pemberton; Color Sergeant: Ben
Farber. Sponsor: Mary K. Montgomery.

gomery.

Company E

Captain: Harold S. Ray; 1st
Lieut: John C. Hearne; 2d Lieut:
Jame G. Dye; 2d Lieut: Amos W.
Kalkhoff; 2d Lieut: Manlius R.
Stewart; 1st Sergt: Robert C. Aldrich.
Sponsor: Mary E. Fisher.

Platoon Sergeants

1st Platoon: Isaac B. Irvine; 2d
Platoon: W. F. Davis; 3d Platoon:
J. H. Ewing.

Ist Platoon: Isaac B. Irvine; 2d Platoon: W. F. Davis; 3d Platoon: J. H. Ewing.

Company F
Captain: Benjamin C. Stapleton; 1st Lieut: C. A. Howe; 1st Lieut: Robert H. Alsover; 1st Lieut: Robert H. Alsover; 1st Lieut: Jouette S. McDowell; 1st Sergt: Lister Witherspoon. Sponsor: Virginia Young.

Platoon: O. B. Coffman; 3d Pla: 1st Platoon: O. B. Coffman; 3d Pla: 1st Platoon: O. B. Coffman; 3d Pla: 1st Platoon: Jack E. Wert.

Company G.

Captain: William S. Morgan; 1st Lieut: C. C. Shipley; 1st Lieut: Edward O. Morgan; 1st Lieut: Edward O. Morgan; 1st Lieut: Wm.

H. Cundiff; 2d Lieut: Lyun Jefferies; 1st Sergt: H. D. Regan. Sponsor: Sarah McCampbell.

Platoon Sergeants

Ist Platoon: J. S. Dun; 2d Platoon: Morris Levin; 3d Platoon: William Sades.

Favors, Programs Dance Invitations

VALENTINE CARDS

We have-

An exceptionally fine assortment and display, and feel sure that we can please and satisfy.

Transylvania Printing Co.

Near Fayette Bank

Opp. Court House

Student Branch Manager WANTED!

One of the largest wholesale firms specializing in clothes for the college man is seeking a campus representative. The man must have selling experience (not necessarily clothing), must be a live wire and have good connections.

We will establish a branch at this university and want a manager who is desirous of making real money. At the present time we are represented at some of the largest universities in the

Write, tell us all about yourself, your past selling experience. Our sales manager will be in town shortly and interview applicants.

ADDRESS

MISS CAMP Room 513 612 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago, Illinois

THREE DELTAS MAKE STANDING OF THREE

Three members of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity, Kendall Holmes, Horace Miner, and Bruce Farquhar, all of Lexington, secured perfect standings for the fall semester.

According to C. R. Melcher, dean of men, in whose office the fraternity scholarship records are compiled from figures issued by the registra, this is the first time in the history of the university that hay social fraternity has had as many as three memversity that nay social fraternity has had as many as three members acheive all "A" standings for the same semester.

Each of the three is registered in the College of Arts and Farguhar, a junior, are majoring Sciences: Holmes, a senior, and in chemistry, while Miner, a sophomore, is majoring in zoology. Holmes was one of the students recently elected to Phi Beta Kappa on his junior standing.

Library Building May Be Finished For Use by May 1

Browsing Room, Informally Furnished, to Be New Feature

By MARY ALICE SALYERS Work on the new library building is progressing rapidly, and the building is expected to be ready for occupancy by May 1. All of the as the interior of the two upper outer part of the building, as well floors are already completed.

The new building which will outer part of the building, as well floors are already completed.

The new building, which will have a book capacit yof 165,000 and will accommodate nearly 600 readers, will give to both students and faculty an enlarged service which is greatly needed. Instead of the two service centers now in use, the main library and the reserve book reading room, there will be five distinct centers, all within the library itself. These are: the general loan desk; the reference room, with its information desk; the reserved book reading room: a reading room for graduate students; and a browsing room. Besides these there will be twelve seminar or conference rooms, adjoining the graduate reading room, and 48 cubicles with individual study desks, in the bookstacks, fro the use of advanced students and faculty members. A library classroom with a capacity of 30 individual study desks will be 50 students and a laboratory with used for the classes in library science.

Golf Horse Shoe

Volleyball Handball

Wrestling Basketball

(Singles and doubles)

laws and a constitution. Member science.

A new and attractive feature of the building will be the open shelf or browsing room, on the second floor. This room will be furnished in an informal manner, and will give the users of the library a place for relaxation and pleasure reading which will be apart from the more serious library atmosphere of the rest of the building.

The library is being built in the Georgian style of architecture. According to M. L. Crutcher, superintendent of the buildings and grounds of the university, this style is being used because of its elasticity of adaption to the other buildings on the campus, and because its proportions are such as to give size without giving an impression of massiveness. In location the building forms the cornerstone of the building plan adopted by the university several years ago. versity several years ago.

Betty Hulett Writes Alumnus Feature

Dr. J. D. Buckner Will Have Charge of Reunion Arrangements

"Class Reunions," by Miss Betty Hulett, is the feature article in the University of Kentucky Alumnus, publication of the Alumni Association, issued yesterday. Miss Hulett's article is reprinted in this issue of The Kernel. It reveals plans of the association for the class reunions to be held at commencement time this year.

bright time this year.

Dr. J. D. Buckner, the originator of class reunions at the university, and president of the association, is in charge of the annual reunion arrangements. Classes planning to hold meetings are: '96, '01, '06, '11 '16, '21, '26, and '29. All of the meetings are to be held at commencement time in June. In her article Miss Hulett brings out the feeling of the alumnus in regard to his return to the school, and predicts that the reunion meetings this year will be a success.

the reunion meetings this year will be a success.

"Sports Review" and "Campus Notes" are articles in the Alumnus that will have a special interest to the alumni members. The reorganization of the Lexington Alumni club is discussed in some detail.

Marguerite McLaughlin of the class of '04 was elected president of the local club, which meets the second Monday in every month. James Shropshire, '29 is the editor of the magazine.

A Bottle of MILK Is a Bottle of HEALTH DIXIE-BELL DAIRY 315 North Limestone

Phones 575 - 2135

ts of Order of Military Science Choose Coeds for Leaders of Battle Chart Bayers Cha Knights of Order of Military Science

THE KENTUCKY KERNEL, SEMI-WEEKLY

The Knights of the Holly Order of Military Science arrayed themselves in all of their blatant and belligerent glory the other day and chose the most popular and beautiful girls on the campus of this university to lead them through the adversities of battle, and inspire them to greater orgies of sublime, bellicose glory when the appointed day shall arrive.

The fortunate ladies who shall

The Knights of the Holly Order of Military Science arrayed themselves in all of their blatant and belligerent glory the other day and chose the most popular and beautiful girls on the campus of this university to lead them through the adversities of battle, and inspire them to greater orgies of sublime, bellicose glory when the appointed day shall arrive.

The fortunate ladies who shall take part in the deadly enterprise are the following demure damsels: Betty Board, regimental sponsor; Floy Bowling, first battalion; Marry King Montgomery, second battalion; Martha Chapman, company A; Virginia Young company F; Sarah McCampbell company G; Irma Pride, company E.

It is reported that the method of selection was the highly conventional process of elimination, which permitted one dark horse to leap through its holy portals. This fair young person was none other than the charming Miss Bowling, whom, it is said, eliminated two more favored ladies from the enviable position, at the side of some be-spectacled young premature military hero in his circus day clothes.

The K. K. K.'s, which the Chi Omegas have no complaint, however, for they managed to get a representatives, whom they propose to sacrifice to the ardors of Mars. The Chi Omegas have no complaint, however, for they managed to get a representative in the fray, in the form of Miss Jean Dawson, the daughter of the famous Federal Judge Chas. I. Dawson, whose judi-

HAVE TAKEN PART

IN INTRAMURALS

A grand total of 1716 men have 163

TOTAL OF 1716 MEN Kaiser Demonstrates Concrete Mixtures

cial demeanor must find itself dis-turbed at such an appalling situa-tion.

Agricultural Engineers See New Water-Cement Ratio Method for Farm

A grand total of 1716 men have participated in the intramural sports to date, and the season is barely half complete. Approximately five times as many fraternity men as independents have entered into the competition, which looks good for the Greeks. W. D. Kaiser, agricultural engineer for the Universal Portland Cement Association, Chicago, Ill., gave a special demonstration on the new "Water-Cement Ratio method of making concrete on the Farm," at 9 o'clock Thursday morning before a group of Agricultural Engineering students.

good for the Greeks.

Football drew the largest number of entrants from the fraternities, but basketball has attracted many more independents than any other sport, and it has also attracted a greater total of men. Golf was low point attractor with boxing a close second. Apparently the independents had no love for free throws, indoor or outdoor golf, or boxing as the sports drew none, one, two, and five men respectively.

The following are the sports and Engineering students.

In his discussion Mr. Kaiser emphasized the facts that, "strength, water-tightness, durability of concrete, depend entirely upon the amount of water used with each sack of cement," and the "need for thorough mixing, proper placing, and curing."

Mr. Kaiser was national president of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers during the year 1929-30. At one time he was associated with Prof. J. B. Kelley, who is now professor of agricultural engineering at the University of Kentucky, as member of the faculty of Iowa State College, of which the two men are alumni. The following are the sports and the participants:

SPEAKS TO LAWYERS

Judge John Stevenson, a Winchester lawyer, was the speaker Thursday morning at a law school convocation at the university. The subject of his address was "Law of Oil and Gas." This lecture is the first of a series of prominent Kentucky barristers that has been arranged for law school convocation during the spring term. As the intramural department grows, C. W. Hackensmith finds it necessary to have a set of byof his staff have been working on the constitution and the by-laws are to appear in a handbook that the intramural department will publish this coming fall.

Hotzy—See that girl? Her face is her fortune.

Totzy—Yeah, and it runs into a nice figure.—Pen Triangle.

Kentucky Kernel

(Continued from page one)
Professor: "Well, I'll see what I can do about it."

publish this coming fall.

The new handbook will be three inches by seven and will have a cover done in blue and white. The book will contain the constitution and by-laws, rules on the sports, points ratings for participants, trophies, pictures of some of the sports and of some of the winning contestants, and messages from men on the campus and other wise. They must have had a Kelley then, too. Wonder what his nick-name was?

At the regular meeting of the dormitory Y. M. C. A. last night, a general discussion on questions of the day was held. A song service of t the day was held. A song service led by Raleigh Hall, completed the program. Earl Robbins presided. The girls of the university Y. W. C. A. will give the program at the next meeting of the dormitory Y. M. C. A., February 26. ful, because Theta Sig is the hon

"Spiked shoes and track suits are being ordered for the university coeds." Wonder what they did with them? They must have been so attractive that the members of the first classes annexed the suits for their own private use. Oh, and they had a basketball team composed of girls called the Kittens.

Well, we have one consolation and that is that the fair coeds of long ago also had to ruin their dainty shoes trekking over the trails that some people may call walks.

"Hurrah! for the girls. At last the "chicken walk" is getting the long-looked-for coat of asphalt applied to it."

Oh, yeah, and there was another perfectly riotious joke, but it was too long to put down here, so the writer will chuckle over it in blissful solitude.

'Cats Fight 'Cats in Spring Practices

(Continued from Page Five) first practice game and Saturday afternoon, the day set for the next encounter, will find several players lined up against their former Blue or White teammates.

or White teammates.

The tackle problem has been solved to a great extent. Baughman, dubbed "Primo" for his size, is taking care of a defensive tackle in great style. This boy covers a lot of territory on the defense and is hard to bring down. Aldridge, Kipping, and Gibson are getting their chance to show something at tackle too. Gibson's speed is a big asset, while the knowledge Aldridge picked up against Alabama, Duke, and W. & L., is keeping the big mountain boy in the running for a starting position next fall.

The practice field has been mark-

The practice field has been marked off for the struggle tomorrow afternoon. All players are to be on the field at 2 o'clock. The game will start at 2:30 or 2:45. No spectators will be admitted.

STARTS SUNDAY

Joan Crawford

Dance Fools Dance

Last Times FRIDAY-SATURDAY

> Constance BENNETT

The Easiest Way

Robert Montgomery Adolphe Menjou

STARTS SUNDAY

Body and Soul

with

Charles Farrell Elissa Landi

Last Times FRIDAY-SATURDAY

Unce a Sinner Dorothy Mackaill

Our beautiful Gold Ballroom is available for fraternity and sorority formals. Other attractive private dining rooms for luncheons, teas or Founder's Day banquets. Students organizations are given special consideration.

Hotel Lafayette

MISS THAT 8 O'CLOCK CLASS DO WITHOUT BREAKFAST?

You Need Do Neither While We Are in Such an Ideal Location

THE HUDDLE

ROSE AND EUCLID

PHONE: C. 390

NIGHT DEL.